FORMING THE CONGRESS CABINET

Last Minute Efforts To Get Nehru In

NEW DELHI, Oct. 13, (UPI).

ALTHOUGH Pandit Nehru's letter to the Congress President today reiterates his decision not to join the new Congress Working Committee, all hopes about his inclusion into the Congress Executive have not yet been given up. Fresh efforts are still being made to request him to change his decision.

It is learnt here tonight that efforts are being made to evolve a new formula to solve stalemate. Two prominent Congressmen in whom Pandit Nehru is believed to have full confidence are understood to have again tried through a new approach to make Pandit Nehru join the Congress Working Committee.

This latest development may perhaps delay the announcement of the new Congress Working Committee which was expected tomorrow.

U.S. Must Co-operate, Vyshinsky Asks

DRAMATIC APPEAL IN U. N. COMMITTEE

LAKE SUCCESS, OCT 13, (P.T.I.-REUTER).

THE SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER, M. ANDREI VYSHINSKY, TODAY APPEALED TO THE UNITED STATES TO RETURN TO ITS WAR-TIME POLICY OF CO-OPERATION. THEN, HE PROMISED, "THINGS WILL CHANGE".

M. Vyshinsky was speaking in the United Nations Political Committee during the debate on the seven-power plan to give greater powers to the General Assembly.

M. Vyshinsky asked: "Isn't the root of the evil the political approach to questions?

"Policies have been changed from the war-time policy of collaboration to the post-war policy of toughness—an "about face" in United States policy", he declared.

American delegate Mr. John Foster Dulles declared earlier that if the United Nations did not institute an effective collective security system, nations would inevitably depend more on military alliances.

The strength of such alliances would not be subject to law or to any such representative boy as the United Nations, he told the General Assembly's Political Committee.

"There can be no comparable assurance that aggregations of power outside this organisation will be as responsible to the over-all welfare of the peoples of the world," said Mr. Dulles.

The United States delegate was urging acceptance of the seven-power plan for giving power to the General Assembly to use force to quell aggression in cases where the Security Council is blocked by the veto.

Answering the argument of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vyshinsky that unanimity among the great powers was the foundation of the United Nations, Mr. Dulles declared: "I deny with all possible vehemence the proposition that this organisation is founded upon the principles of the unanimity of the permanent members of the Security Council.

NO FOUNDATION

"If that is the foundation of this organisation, then it has no foundation at all—for there is today, unhappily, no such unanimity.

RETURN TO OLD DAYS

The Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vyshinsky declared the new post-war "political approach" had not yielded results.

"Why not return to the old war-time policy of collaboration?" he asked.

"If the United States does that, I am convinced that things will change."

It was evident that the Soviet Minister also directed this remark to Mr. Kenneth Younger, British Minister of State.

"If you would show some willingness not to put obstacles in everyone's path, then you might get agreement," he said.

"But you reject the cake, without even tasting it."

CRUDE MISTAKE

Dealing in detail with the "new United States policy proclaimed after the death of President Roosevelt, " Mr. Vyshinsky said "this new policy of a tough attitude towards one's former allies is not a policy of peace.

"One cannot foster relations among powers, great or small on a tough policy instead of a co-operative policy. Authoritative American persons say it is only force which can impress the Soviet Union.

"What a profound and crude mistake. The times will never come when the Soviet Union will shake in its boots before anybody."

Mr. Vyshinsky declared America's "policy of tough demands" had been repeatedly presented and pressed, bolstered and backed up by force and military bases all over the world which "like tongues of fire" all went towards that heart (the Soviet Union) which had been the dream of so many.

"We are in favour of the adoption of all measures likely to secure the peace and security of nations" he said.

Russia supported even some of the provisions of the present seven power resolution but "we do not support your motives, Mr. Dulles, because they are false."

The Soviet Union did not support military detachments because they would lead to purposes contrary to those stated in the preamble to the seven-power resolution. M. Vyshinsky said.

BIG POWER CLASH OVER TRYGVE LIE

Russia's Reasons Will Be Made Known Later

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 13 (PTI-Reuter)

SOVIET Foreign Minister Andrei Vyshinsky told PTI-Reuter today that when the time came Russia would explain her reasons for objecting the reappointment of Mr. Trygve Lie as United Nations Secretary-General.

In a jovial mood, the Soviet Minister reported emphatically that Russia opposed any extension of Mr. Lie's term of office.

Such an extension would be completely contrary to the Charter, he declared.

Asked whether he had considered the possible candidature of Mr. A. Ramaswami Mudaliar of India for the post of Secretary-General, Mr. Vyshinsky replied that he had not given this possibility any thought.

Asked what would happen if the United Nations organisation found itself without an administrative head, Mr. Vyshinsky said amiably: "That would be just too bad."

Mr. Vyshinsky was asked whether the Soviet objections to Mr. Lie might be based on the Secretary-General's attitude towards the Korean War.

"I cannot be more precise at this moment," the Soviet representative replied.

BIG POWER CLASH

The United Nations was today confronted with a big power clash over the proposal that Mr. Trygve Lie continue as Secretary-General.

The clash came to a head last night behind closed doors in the Security Council when the Soviet Union vetoed a proposal that Mr. Lie—a Norwegian—be re-elected to another five-year term.

Then the Council rejected the Soviet candidate Mr. Zygmunt Moozeleuski, Polish Foreign Minister.

The Security Council President for October Mr. Warren Austin of the United States, immediately threw the problem into the lap of the Assembly in a letter to the Assembly President reporting simply that the Council had been unable to agree on recommendation.

Soon afterwards, they returned to the lobbies and resumed the discussion which took a very ugly turn and ultimately resulted in the exchange of blow

PILFERED FROM A PALACE

Diplomatic Documents In Dustbin

LONDON, Oct. 13, (PTI-Reuter).

DIPLOMATIC documents were stolen from Buckingham Palace, home of the King, last night.

Police tonight charged a man with breaking into the palace and stealing the diplomatic despatch box.

They named the man as Douglas Monro, 26, a seaman.

Arrest of Monro, a Scotsman, followed a probe at the palace by Britain's top detectives after the royal despatch box had been found dumped in a London dustbin.

All documents in the box were intact. It contained only correspondence and no state papers or secret files.

The box was believed to have disappeared from the room in the palace occupied by the Marshal of the Diplomatic Corps.

Chief Superintendent Fred Cherril, Scotland Yard's Fingerprint Expert was among the detectives who visited the palace.

The diplomatic box was found in the early morning by a sergeant of the Irish Guard who spotted the initials G. R. (George Rex) and a crown on the box. He reported his find to the police.

The Marshal of the Diplomatic Corps, Major General A. D. Salisbury-Jones, is the King's official responsible for personal contacts with foreign ambassadors and Ministers.

His duties are largely confined to formal and official occasions. His department in the palace is a large room at the end of a tree-lined courtyard in Buckingham Palace Road.

Though King George and Queen Elizabeth are out of London—the King at Sandringham, the Queen at Balmoral—high officials of the royal household were on duty in the palace.

MIDNIGHT PROWLER

A man was found climbing over the wall into the palace grounds just after midnight but police say it is unlikely he was connected with the theft. He hid in bushes until a sentry and a policeman seized him and gave no explanation of what he was doing.

A Scotland Yard spokesman said that nothing but the diplomatic box seemed to be missing from the palace and there were no signs of forcible entry.

News of the incident was sent to King George who was out with a shooting party on his Norfolk estate.

More Telephone Lines For City

NEW EXCHANGE TO BEGIN FUNCTIONING SOON

BOMBAY, Friday.

A MODERN gigantic telephone exchange, laboriously assembled, erected and wired by the local staff at the Gell Street offices will shortly begin to serve over 1,200 subscribers of the Bombay Telephones.

The exchange, which took eighteen months of arduous labour, is now almost ready to be switched on to "set in motion" the new telephone connections that will be given to subscribers sometime this week.

Though no definite date has been fixed for commencing operations on the new exchange, the beginning of the third week of this month ought to see the new exchange in service.

Imported from Liverpool, United Kingdom, the new exchange, which is a very useful, though expensive acquisition of the Bombay Telephones, arrived in the city more than a year ago, but being a technically very sensitive instrument, involving a lot of mechanical adjustments, it has taken a long time for erection.

SEVEN SERIES

The new exchange will inaugurate a new number series in Bombay; the new series beginning with 7 (seven).

The 1,200 subscribers who have been waiting on the priority list of the Bombay Telephones for more than a couple of years are to be given connections shortly. The erection of the new exchange is the main reason which has caused the delay in the provision of new connections to the subscribers. All these subscribers will now be allotted numbers in the "Seven Series."

Six "racks'—as they are called—have been erected at the Gell Street premises now and final checkings are currently being made to perfect what, from the engineering point of view, needs a lot of skill, attention and testing. The exchanges landed in Bombay by sea; they had to be carted to Gell Street, grounded, erected and wired. The final connections have now been made.

Provision is made on the floor of the Gell Street buildings for the erection of another new exchange which will serve 2,500 lines, but this will necessarily take a longer time.

OLD EXCHANGE

The old exchanges of the Bombay Telephones which were pressed into service in 1924, over a quarter of a century ago, have outlived their utility and "it is a miracle" that they are still functioning. Mr. D. P. Rangnekar, an Assistant Engineer at the Central Exchange of the Company, who did most of the explaining to a reporter of this paper, said: "These exchanges are so delicate ordinarily that one has to exercise the utmost caution in handling them. Now that they have become old and are nearly-worn out, we have to treat and touch them gently.

The Bombay Telephones propose to replace all the old exchanges by new ones, a process which will cost the Government of India "some money." The replacement will be ushered in gradually, exchange by exchange, line by line.

Much water has flown under the bridge since Bombay spoke over a te-

The Permit Way To Wealth

CUTTACK, Oct. 13 (PTI).

Mr. Harekrushna Mahatab, Industries Minister, today ousted the permit-selling trader, blackmarker and hoarder from being called industrialists.

"They are just middlemen", he said. "They should not be mistaken for industrialists. Real industrialists put in hard labour like the Tatas who established the iron and steel industry".

Mr. Mahatab said many had approached him for licenses for importing articles. "On enquiry, I found many of them were by themselve not capitalists. They were middlemen selling permits to make easy money".

He declared he would press for penalising such practices. "It is a bad tradition and if scope is allowed for making easy money like this no one will ever strive to establish any industry or honest trade".

BRUSSELS, Oct. 13 (PTI-Reuter). The Belgian Cabinet today approved a bill extending conscript military service from one to two years

The bill has to be passed by Parliament.

(i) at a General Meeting convened by notice at the date of which the dividend on the said Cumulative Preference Shares or any part thereof is six months or more in arrear and so that for this purpose the dividend shall be deemed to be payable half-yearly on the 1st day of May and the 1st day of November in every year in respect of the period ending on the preceding 31st day of March and 30th day of September respectively, or

(3) The said 25,00,000 unclassified shares of Rs. 10 each may be issued by the Directors as Ordinary Shares or with such preferential or deferred rights and upon such terms and conditions (and in particular upon terms that any such shares issued as Preference Shares shall, or at the option of the Company shall, be liable to be redeemed) as may be thought fit but so that such shares shall in any case rank for dividend and return of capital after the said Cumulative Preference Shares".

(b) By deleting Article 65 and by substituting in place thereof the following new Article:

"65. This Article is not by implication to curtail the power of modification which the Company would have if this Article were omitted."

(c) By the addition of the following new words at the commencement of Article 96:

"Subject to any special rights or restrictions as to voting on which any shares may be held".

3. That the Directors be authorised to offer for subscription by members of the Company not more than 1,53,156 Preference Shares in proportion to their existing holdings on the 13th day of November, 1950 but disregarding fractions of new shares and excluding from the offer any member not resident in the Indian Union to whom the making of such offer has not been duly sanctioned.

10 LAKHS TARGET FOR MAYOR'S ASSAM 'QUAKE RELIEF FUND

All Possible Sources Being Tapped

BOMBAY, Friday.

A DAY'S collection from all the picture houses in the city exhibiting Indian films, will be donated to the Bombay Mayor's Assam Earthquake Relief Fund.

The Indian Motion Picture Association has fixed Monday, October 23 for this purpose, being a public holiday on account of Moharrum. The proceeds will be roughly between 50 and 60 thousand rupees.

This was revealed by Mr. S. K. Patil, Mayor of Bombay, at a press conference this evening at the Municipal Corporation Hall. He said that the sponsors of the Fund have already approached Government to exempt the shows on that day from the payment of Entertainment Tax and he was confident that Government would agree to their request.

The Mayor said that he had already contacted the Chief Minister and the Governor of the State and he was glad to announce that they have assured their fullest support to the Fund.

Mr. Chunilal, President of the IMPA, who was also present at the press conference, said that the foreign film distributors have agreed to donate substantial amounts to the Fund.

A special race meeting will also be held during the forthcoming Bombay season in aid of the Fund, the Mayor stated.

In this connection also, they have approached Government to exempt this special meeting from the payment of the betting and entertainment taxes.

The Board of Control for Cricket has also been approached by them for special matches in aid of the Fund, Mr. Patil observed. He hoped that sportsmen would also come forward to help swell the fund.

A DOZEN PROGRAMMES

The Mayor added that about a dozen programmes of variety entertainment have also been planned and he was sure that the Fund would derive a substantial amount from this source. In this connection, he made it clear that programmes would be allowed to be held under the auspices of the Fund only if the entire proceeds were donated to the Fund, without any deductions being made by way of expenses.

Mr. Patil said that they have already collected Rs. 1,10,00 till today out of which Rs. 75,000 has been remitted to the Assam Governor's Relief Fund. He pointed out that no disbursements to individual relief organisations would be made from the Mayor's Fund. The entire proceeds will be donated to the Governor's Fund.

The Mayor said that their target was roughly about Rs. 10 lakhs and he appealed to the citizens of Bombay to help them in the name of suffering humanity.

Her interests are varied and she takes keen interest in the life of the city. She is a prolific writer and an eloquent speaker.

Glowing tributes were paid to her at a farewell function for selfless and meritorious services.

Degrees Of Baroda University

BOMBAY, Friday.

It appears that there is some doubt in the public mind about the recognition of the degrees of the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda by the Government of Bombay for purposes of employment in service under it. It is explained in this connection that the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda is established in Bombay State, like any other Statutory University, and that the degrees and diplomas awarded by it are recognised, like those of any other Statutory University, for purposes of employment in service under the Government.

RELIEF WORK IN ASSAM

Ramakrishna Mission's Commendable Work

BOMBAY, Friday.

The Ramakrishna Mission is occupied with the extensive relief operations,—the earthquake relief in Assam and refugee rehabilitation relief work in Bengal and Bihar. Their workers took seven days to reach Gogamukh in Assam which is only 27 miles north of Lakhimpur—the worst afflicted of all areas. The distress of the people over there beggars all description. They badly want rice, wheat, clothes, medicines, etc.

The Ashram President appeals to the public, to various other funds collecting agencies, millowners' associations, All India Women's Conference and various other associations to contribute their quota to alleviate the distress of the suffering millions.

Any contribution, in cash or kind, may be sent to the Ramakrishna Mission, Khar, will be most thankfully acknowledged. All contributions to the relief funds of the Ramakrishna Mission are exempted from income-tax.

The names of donors for both these relief funds are:

Dispute Over Lamp In Fire Temple

BOMBAY, Friday.
(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Gajendragadkar)

Khan Saheb Sorabji Jamshedji Pardiwala and Others .. Petitioners (Defendants)

Versus

Kharshedji Pestonji Patel and another on behalf of themselves and other members of the Patel family ..... Respondents (Plaintiffs)

An interesting Revision Application against an order passed by the Civil Judge (Junior Division) Bulsar on preliminary issues holding that the suit was not in respect of a public trust and was, therefore, maintainable without the sanction of the Advocate-General under section 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure was admitted by His Lordship at the Bombay High Court on Thursday.

His Lordship also granted stay of the proceedings before the trial judge pending disposal of the Revision Application. The application will now come up for hearing in due course.

The plaintiffs, who had filed this suit as a representative suit, alleged that their ancestors had set apart certain lands in Udwada measuring over 27 acres for the religious purpose of maintaining for ever a "Cherag" (Oil Lamp) in the Agiari and Atashbehram in Udwada from their income and that by an oral trust those lands were entrusted to the defendants' grandfather for the said purpose.

The plaintiffs alleged that some of these lands had been wrongfully sold by the defendants' grandfather and other breaches of trust committed and the plaintiffs prayed for accounts and for the handing over of the trust properties to the Parsi Panchayat of Bombay for the permanent maintenance of the "Cherag."

TRUST DENIED

The defendants denied the alleged oral trust and asserted that their grandfather was the absolute owner of the lands in question, and that he had voluntarily maintained a Cherag out of a portion of the income of those lands in the Atash Behram and Agiari at Udwada.

Relying on the decisions in the cases of Jamshedji vs. Soonabai and Sir Dinsha vs. Sir Jamshedji, counsel for the applicants contended that the burning of a lamp in a Fire-Temple was appurtenant to the Fire-Temple and therefore a public charity.

He further pointed out that in the case reported in 33 All. 400 at 412 the burning of lamps in a mosque had been held to be a valid object of charity. He, therefore, contended that the suit was not maintainable without the sanction of the Advocate-General and that the trial judge's decision on the preliminary issues was erroneous.

Mr. K. H. Bhabha instructed by Messrs. Kanga and Co., appeared for the applicants.

POLICE OFFICER'S TRIAL

Transfer Application Granted

BOMBAY, Friday.
(Before the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Rajadhyaksha & Mr. Justice Chainani)

N. D. Bhojwani ..... Applicant

Versus

The State ..... Respondent

Their Lordships granted a transfer application by the applicant, a former Deputy District Superintendent of Police, Poona, and ordered that the case in which he and five others stood charged with the offence of causing hurt in order to extort a confession, and of wrongful confinement, be transferred for trial to the Court of Session for Greater Bombay.

While investigations into a case of dacoity at Bhor in June 1949 were proceeding, Changunabai a sister of one of the suspects, had to be taken to hospital where she was treated for intestinal obstruction but died two days after admission.

SENSATION

This caused a sensation in Poona, and the applicant and five others who were committed for trial to the Court of Session at Poona, apprehended that they would not get a fair trial at Poona. Hence the present transfer application.

Mr. H. R. Pardivala with Mr. B. K. Keshwani appeared for the applicant.

The Assistant Government Pleader Mr. K. G. Datar appeared for the State.

REPORTS OF COMMUNAL DISORDERS DENIED

DACCA, October 13, (PTI).

THE East Bengal Government in a rejoinder to the recent West Bengal Government press note reiterated today that they had been "more effective than the Government of West Bengal in implementing to the full the provisions of the Prime Ministers' Agreement".

The press note stated: "It is a fact that from time to time since the Agreement Government have received from the West Bengal Government lists of instances of alleged harassment or crime against individual members of the minority in this province. They are being thoroughly inquired into and the results of these inquiries are being communicated to the Government of West Bengal as soon as they are received. This Government have also sent similar lists to the West Bengal Government of instances of crime against Muslims in that State since the Prime Ministers' Agreement and are awaiting their reply.

NO DISORDERS

"In East Bengal", the press note added, "there have been no communal disorders since the Agreement, apart from the brief outburst on April 15 by refugees at the Chittagong Exhibition Ground, when a few houses were tresspassed into and some property damaged. On this occasion Rs. 15,000 were promptly distributed by Government to the affected persons. In West Bengal, on the other hand there have been numerous occurrences since the Agreement in which Hindu mobs have attacked and ravaged areas inhabited by Muslims.

Referring to the West Bengal Government's "criticisms of the Search Service Bureau" in East Bengal, the press note said that the bureau had discharged its functions conscientiously and efficiently which was proved by the fact that so far 28 women had been restored to their relatives.

For the purpose of raising external finance, he added, bilateral discussions would have to be carried on between Governments in accordance with the articles of agreement of the International Bank.

Replying to a question about the shyness of foreign capital in India, the Finance Minister listed certain reasons, the most important of which was that the level of profit in India was comparatively lower than that obtained in other countries, notably United States. The other reasons he pointed out, included the relations between India and Pakistan as well as the fear which was entertained in some quarters about the Government of India's policy about nationalisation. 'SIZEABLE QUANTITY' OF U. S. COTTON

American Consulate Assures India

BOMBAY, Friday.

India might be able to procure larger quantities later, when the stock position in America improved and the needs of India were still pressing.

WILL U. S. SECURITY LAW AFFECT U. N. OBSERVERS?

American Lawyers To Decide The Issue

NEW YORK, Oct. 13 (PTI-Reuter).

UNITED STATES Government lawyers were today deciding whether United Nations Observers came under the new Federal Internal Security Act, which bars from the United States all aliens associated now or in the past with Communist or Fascist groups.

Yesterday's sudden application of the law filled Ellis Island detention centre with aliens about to enter the country.

The State Department announced it had temporarily suspended all visas issued to aliens throughout the world.

It was not yet clear whether the United Nations headquarters agreement with the United States exempted observers of recognised non-Governmental consultative status from the provisions of the new law.

EXTEMPTION

Immigration officials said they were also in doubt about the status of correspondents accredited to the United Nations. But all other United Nations staff were assured that the agreement granted them exemption.

Most affected by the new laws were Italians and Germans who predominated among the 249 persons now on the Island.

Both Germany and Italy have protested to the United States government about the new law.

It has not yet been determined whether the law applies to supporters of the Franco regime in Spain or the Peron Government in Argentina.

In the meantime displaced persons coming to the United States for resettlement and official representatives of foreign Governments, are exempted from the law.

An Indian delegate, first to take part in the discussion, said Asian participation in the Organisation was "more by courtesy than in recognition of its importance."

Taking an overall view of the Organisation today he said he was constrained to think it was merely a forum for the exchange of opinions.

The round table was discussing 'political and strategic relations with the United Nations'.

The Indian delegate opened discussion with questioning the propriety of the veto. American and Canadian delegates interrupted him to ask: "does Indian non-participation in the latest U N Korea Commission to go strengthen the world organisation"?.

An American delegate said India's refusal to sit on the U. N. Committee of Investigation was "as neutral as that of Switzerland's who is not even a member of the United Nations".

Another member of the Indian delegation (who is said to be represent a minority view) referred to Mr. Dean Acheson's recent proposal to invest the General Assembly with more powers and doing away with the veto and said it "deserved the support of India".

Security Council To Discuss Next Week

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 13 (PTI-Reuter): The United Nations Security Council is expected to meet next week to take up the problem of the "little war" on the Indonesian Island of Ambon between Indonesian Government forces and a rebel group.

Avowed aim of the Amboinese rebels last group holding out against Indonesia in the Republid is separation from the union as at present contituted.

U.S. To Have Mighty Armed Forces

BRADLEY DISCLOSES

WASHINGTON, October 13 (PTI-Reuter): America's Military High Command is aiming at an armed force of 2,100,000 men with 62 air groups and 905 naval ships and plans later to go higher still, General Omar Bradley said in a broadcast last night. Even those forces will be inadequate, the Chairman of the United States Chiefs of Staff declared.

Stating that current defence moves carried a "price tag" of 25,000 million dollars General Bradley disclosed that the nations military chiefs were now working on a plan, "that is going to cost more money and take more effort and more men in uniform."

GET RED CHINA INTO U.N.

"Spectator" Supports Nehru's Policy

LONDON, Oct. 13, (PTI-Reuter): Pandit Nehru, the Indian Prime Minister, was perfectly right in his attitude that to alienate Communist China deliberately would be disastrous, the Conservative weekly journal, "The Spectator", declared today.

It said that Mr. Ernest Bevin, the British Secretary, was also perfectly right in recognizing New China as soon as it was clear that its Government was firmly established, "as to all appearances it plainly is".

Stating that the next, and a most essential step, was "to secure the real China's admission to the United Nations", the journal observed: "There is no time to lose. To repel China from Lake Success is to impel her inevitably towards Moscow."

"Even if she enters the Security Council as a temporary ally of Moscow, that is much better than leaving her under a just sense of grievance by excluding her from it. America, it may be hoped, will come to realise that," the "Spectator" declared.

U.S.-U. K. FINANCIAL TALKS SUCCESSFUL

Details Of Pact Kept Secret

OTTAWA, October 13 (PTI-Reuter): Mr. Hugh Gaitskell, British Minister for Economic Affairs, was in Canada today after his successful financial talks in Washington. He is expected to stay four days.

Mr. Gaitskell left Washington last night having reached complete agreement with the American Government on how much help America is to contribute to the first stage of Britain's rearmament programme.

It was understood that Mr. Gaitskell had won agreement on a definite dollar sum, but the figure was not disclosed.

The first stage of Britain's three year rearmament drive will involve expenditure of 200 million sterling.

During his Washington talks, Mr. Gaitskell also gave the American Government full information on the British Commonwealth plan to aid South and South East Asia, drawn up, in London last week.

Mudaliar Tipped As Relief Administrator For Korea

LAKE SUCCESS, Oct. 13 (PTI): The name of Sir A. Ramaswami Mudaliar of India is being discussed in Economic and Social Council circles as one of the "best eligibles" for the post of administrator of the United Nations relief and rehabilitation programme in Korea, cables D.P. Wagle, PTI Correspondent.

Sir Ramaswami is Vice-President of the Economic and Social Council. He was invited by Secretary General Trygve Lie recently to accept the post of Director-General of the United Nations expanded technical aid programme, but the Indian diplomat was unable to do so.

Mr. Hernand Santa Cruz, Chilean President of the Economic and Social Council, is one of those strongly suggested that Sir Ramaswami should be offered the Korean post.

As President of the Economic and Social Council for two sessions in the past, Sir Ramaswami has left a record which is very highly thought of in U.N. circles.

Doubt is, however, expressed whether Sir Ramaswami would be able to accept the new post although India supported the relief and rehabilitation part of the Assembly resolution appointing the unification commission for Korea. She is not a member of that commission.

Mr. Santa Cruz told PTI that the Economic and Social Council had yet to frame the blueprint for the relief programme. But he did have Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar's name in mind.

Mudaliar Makes No Comment

CALCUTTA, Oct. 13 (PTI).—Mr. A. Ramaswami Mudaliar, who is now in Calcutta, told the Press Trust of India that it was for the first time that he was hearing of his name being mentioned in connection with the post of administrator of the U.N. Relief and Rehabilitation Programme in Korea.

He has so far had no communication either official or unofficial in this connection.

Mr. Mudaliar, however, declined to make any further comment on the report.

RAIDERS STORM NAVY GOAL

Four Brilliant Goals In Rovers Soccer Replay

BOMBAY, Friday.

INDIAN Navy who only yesterday were all over the Raiders, had their colours lowered in their replayed encounter this evening at the Cooperage being trounced by four goals to nil. The winners now meet Binny Mills Bangalore on Sunday.

The Pakistan sides display was a slight improvement, but the only thing surprising in the game was the brilliant start they made with a terrific burst of pressure, which lasted just ten minutes. The Navy were knocked cold, and failed to recover.

Goalkeeper Roy let his team down badly. His mistakes were costly. The Pak side made most of the six chances, scoring on four occassions. Pak-Raiders have to thank goalkeeper Fazal for another brilliant performance. Full back Manzar was a stone wall in defence. Niaz and centre half Taj deserve special mention. for an all-round display.

The Navy received a rude shock in the very first few seconds of play. Outside left Fakhari initiated a good move and passed to centre. Singh failed to intercept and the ball came to Hadi, the centre forward who made no mistake in beating a helpless custodian.

Five minutes later, Raiders forged ahead with a second goal following a goalmouth centre pass from the right which culminated in Niaz scoring from close in. Had goalkeeper Roy anticipated well, a certain save could have been affected.

There seemed to be no end to the Navy's downfall. And certainly no end to the Raiders scoring. Niaz headed in, when goalkeeper Roy failed to get his hands to a lofted shot by right outer Miraj. Three goals had accrued in a space of ten minutes.

Play turned out to be well balanced till the break, but with the Navy trying hard in the second period to save the match, Raiders were having an anxious time.

Both outfits reshuffled their ranks. Lyngdoh was shifted left half to right half and Shanku played left-inner, instead of his usual right inside position. Nicholson played centre forward.

As the Raiders right half was injured and left the field midway through the first half, the visitors had to play the rest of the game with ten men. Miraj, the right outer played as centre forward while Hadi, the centre forward played as right half.

Pereira the Navy right outer was the only player to cause some impression on the Raiders goal in the second period. He slammed in three terrific drives but they were turned to nought by the brilliant Raiders' custodian. Fazal, who saved from all possible angles.

Just a few minutes before the end, Fakhari the left outer climaxed a brilliant performance with a superb goal. He dribbled his way past three defenders and beat the onrushing custodian with a dazzling shot to the top of the net.

The teams were:—

RAIDERS F. C. LAHORE:—

Fazal-ur-Rahman; Manzoor, Mannan; Hamid, Taj, Ashan; Miraj, Rafi, Hadi, Niaz, Fakhari.

INDIAN NAVY:—

P. K. Roy; D. Singh, Thappa; Raju, Raghwan, Lyngdoh; Pereira, Shanku, Mukundan, Nicholson, Jayaram.

Referee: D. P. Puthran.

Cricket Has Its Glories: Plea For Open Spaces

POONA, Oct. 13 (PTI): Mr. V. S. Dongre told the Bombay Legislative Council today that the State must provide for "more and more maidans for cricket.

Cricket, he said, had its own glories. "I am sure so long as England sticks to its parliamentary system and its national game of cricket, it will never go down."

"Cricket develops team spirit which is badly needed in India."

While congratulating Government for not agreeing to lease a part of Oval Maidan in Bombay for a cafetaria, he asked them to clear the Azad Maidan of military structures and shows and exhibitions place more open spaces at the disposal of Bombay citizens.

The Upper House was discussing a bill to provide for national parks and recreation centres in the State.

BLESSING IN DISGUISE!

Late Arrival Of Washbrook Will Give Others Chances

From Reginald Hayter PTI-Reuter special correspondent

PERTH Oct, 13 (PTI-Reuter):

The late arrival of Cyril Washbrook who flies out to join the M. C. C. cricket tourists, and the injury to Len Hutton may prove a blessing in disguise for Freddie Brown and his co-selectors.

The tour opens tomorrow with the one-day match against Northam and usually, in Australia, a tour captain is so anxious to get his best batsmen into form that he has to give them all the available prartice possible before the First Test.

This means limited opportunities for the others but with Washbrook and Hutton not available at present such men as Parkhouse, Simpson, Dewes and Sheppard, all of whom are candidates for early batting positions in the test side are almost automatically assured of three games in West Australia.

This means five or even six innings and will provide good evidence of their ability to accustom themselves to Australian conditions.

A crowd of five thousand is expected at tomorrow's match and local officials are confident that the pitch will be fairly grassy.

Northam bowling is said to be stronger than the batting soundest of the batsmen being the left hand openers K. Doherty and B. Lawrence.

Evans, Latest Among Injured M. C. C. Players

PERTH, Oct. 13 (PTI-Reuter): The latest addition to the growing list of M.C.C. players with minor injuries is wicketkeeper Godfrey Evans, who suffered further damage to his right thumb which was broken towards the end of the English season.

In practice here Evans received two blows on the thumb, once when keeping wicket and again when batting. He had a poultice put on the thumb and an ice pack today to heal, the bruise quickly.

Evans is still among the 12 players from which the team to play in the one-day match against a Western Australian Country Eleven at Northampton Saturday will be chosen.

He must however be considered doubtful and in any case would be unlikely to keep wicket.

At the same time there is no need for worry as the damage to his thumb is insufficient to prevent his playing if required.

AGITATION OF MULLAHS AND MOULVIS IN PAKISTAN

Demand For Complete Islamic State

(From Our Correspondent)

KARACHI, (By Airmail).

ALTHOUGH the Pakistan Assembly has not yet finally adopted the New Constitution for Pakistan, the Mullah and Moulvi elements all over the country have started raising a hue and cry against the trend of events taking place; at the same time demanding that the New Constitution must be based word by word on principles of Islam and the Shariat laws must be made applicable to the country at the earliest opportunity.

A number of Mullahs Moulvis and other religious heads are reported to have joined their hands together to raise a joint voice against the reports of the Sub-committee of the Constituent Assembly on the Objectives as also the Fundamental rights of the citizens. The Jamiat Ulema-i-Islam, Pakistan, has taken up cudgels on behalf of the Mullahs and wide-spread agitation has begun under its auspices—particularly in the Western Punjab and the Federal Capital.

Commenting on the reports of the two Sub-committees of the Pakistan Constituent Assembly, Sayyad Yahya Nadavi, President of the Jamiat's Karachi branch in a statement says that 'these reports have deeply shocked not only those yearning for a constitution based on the principles of Islam but even those who have any regard for the principles of democracy, social justice and fairplay. To say that this is an Islamic Constitution, is an insult to Islam itself. It is extremely distressing to note that the recommendations and comments of the Board of Talimat-i-Islam have been altogether ignored.'

MANDAL'S RESIGNATION

Much gloom appears to have been created in local political circles over the resignation of Mr. Jogendra Nath Mandal, Pakistan's Law Minister, from the Pakistan Cabinet as well as the Constituent Assembly, and particularly his statement giving out Pakistan's policy towards the minorities.

Although some of the leaders and officials have expressed their indignation and characterised Mr. Mandal's allegations as 'entirely baseless', Pakistan Premier Mr. Liaquat Ali Khan will soon be making a detailed statement in the Constituent Assembly which will serve as an official rejoinder to Mr. Mandal's statement and charges.

On the otherhand, rival groups of the Depressed Classes in Pakistan, have come out with statements condemning Mr. Mandal's move and Swami Kaliuganand who styles himself as the leader of the Adibasis, has gone a step further by advising his followers to illuminate their houses as a mark of joy over Mr. Mandal's resignation. Swami Kaljuganand has, besides asked the Pakistan authorities to order dismissal of Mr. Mandal instead of accepting his resignation.

—"The Government of Pakistan do not propose to take back all the I.N.A. men in the Pakistan Army as there are some departmental hurdles involved' said Prime Minister Mr. Liaquat Ali Khan, replying to a question in the Pakistan Constituent Assembly.

BILL TO PUNISH 'INCEST'

Social Reform Body's Plea For Circulation

The Council of the Bombay Presidency Social Reform Association has addressed a letter to the Home Minister, expressing its opinion on the Bombay Punishment of Incest Bill of 1950.

The Council of the Association accords its support to the principle of the Bill in so far as its object is to punish an evil, involving immorality of the most revolting and brutal character.

The Council, however, states, that the scope of the Bill is very limited, being confined to the four specified relations within a family.

The Council believes that the evil is not so widely spread in the Bombay State, as to necessitate the creation of a new offence for punishing it. It, therefore recommends that the Bill may be circulated for consulting public opinion as to the necessity of the Bill.

The Council considers it will be extremely difficult to obtain reliable evidence of the offence and successful prosecutions for the offence will be few and far between. On the other hand, the Bill will provide a handle for mischievous persons, who are likely to harass innocent persons in a spirit of revenge, extortion or blackmail.

The Council, therefore, recommends that the status of the police office investigating the offence should not be lower than that of an Inspector lower th mfwyp mfwyp mfwypnpnpp of Police and the offence should not be made cognizable under the Code of Criminal Procedure.

THE SUGAR-COATED PILL

The frank exchange which took place between the Indian and Pakistan delegates to the Institute of Pacific Relations Conference, on the one side, and the Anglo-American delegates on the other, has provoked the "New York Times" into a denunciation of the "Nehru Policy" in Korea. Though the language used by the "Times" is needlessly strong, we welcome the criticism. Only we wish that it had been less sugar-coated. Understanding between nations cannot be brought about if differences of opinion are glossed over. Nor is it possible, considering the issues involved in Korea, for any glossing over to take place. We have ourselves said that the insistence of Indian official spokesmen on UN forces staying behind the 38th Parallel was academic. But it is wrong to contend that that insistence arose from a desire to appease the other side.

It is, we appreciate, difficult for a party that is engaged in active fighting and on whom the brunt of the resistance to aggression had fallen, to see the point of view of someone who has approved of the need for such resistance but still hesitates to join in the action fully. On the other hand, Americans with their own experience in two world wars ought to be the first to realise that in matters of war it is not wise to try to hustle a neutral into belligerency.

A great deal of India's anxiety to bring the Korean incident to an early conclusion springs from the knowledge that neutrality is possible for us only under peace conditions. This, coupled with an almost unreasoning faith in the benefits to be derived by India by non-involvement, accounts for much that seems to outsiders inexplicable in Indian foreign policy.

The argument on the rights and wrongs of our Korean stand has to take place in India itself; others cannot persuade us of its error, they can only harden the mood. The "New York Times" had a point to make but even more annoying than its anger is its complacent assumption that Pandit Jawaharlal will see his mistake—an assumption that is sugar-coated with compliments to his greatness. It conveys the impression that this critic obviously desires to win his point by blatant flattery.

If the "New York Times" really thought that Pandit Jawaharlal was likely to change his mind, it is most unlikely that the present policy associated with Nehru's name would have caused it so much distress. Whatever might be said of the manner in which the Pacific Conference delegates have expressed their views, it should be put down to their credit that they were outspoken. It is more probable that some measure of understanding will be reached at Lucknow where the Conference is meeting than through criticism of the type indulged in by the "Times" which seems to proceed on the assumption that Indians are midway between folly and lunacy and need to be humoured out of their attitude.

A Difficult Role

When Mr. Trygve Lie, the Norwegian Foreign Minister, was elected, almost unanimously, in 1946 the first Secretary-General of the United Nations, he took an oath to discharge his functions and regulate his conduct with the interests of the United Nations only in view and not to ask, seek or accept instructions in regard to the performance of his duties from any Government or other authority external to the organisation. Mr. Lie has done his job conscientiously and the organisation has been set on its feet and many of its non-political branches have shown successful results. But the position of Trygve Lie has been none too comfortable in the political bodies, where two powerful blocs frequently clash. His attempt to steer clear of both of them has brought the wrath of the opposing forces on his head. His impartiality has been questioned and his honesty of purpose suspected. At the height of anti-Communist hysteria in the United States, he was accused of being a one-time red and his association with the labour movement in his country was cited against him. His genuine efforts to bring peace between the two blocs was misunderstood and his one-man mission to Moscow when he met Marshal Stalin only made him more unpopular with the Americans. But what greater evidence could be found of his strict impartiality than that the Soviet Union itself in the Security Council has vetoed his re-election as United Nations Secretary General. His support to the Security Council's resolution calling on United Nations members to help to repel the North Korean aggressors made Moscow furious. M. Andrei Gromyko, the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, in a virulent personal attack accused him of "obsequiously helping a gross violation of the United Nations charter to be committed by the Government of the United States and other Security Council members." The incident clearly shows how difficult and at the same time responsible is the position of the Secretary-General of United Nations. It is a pity that a veto by one of the Big Powers can prevent a man like Mr. Trygve Lie from continuing in a post which he has filled with dignity and impartiality. It will be very difficult to find a substitute for him.

A Test Case

Some time back, the Government of India directed an inquiry into the possibilities of expanding the Government-run Opium Factory at Ghazipur which is the only factory now that the Neemuch Opium Factory has been closed down. In an answer to a question in Parliament, Dr. Matthai, the then Finance Minister, said some eighteen months ago that the production at Ghazipur was over 1,500 lbs. and that this figure was touched in the war years when demand was at its peak. Since then the production has fallen to a little over a third of capacity. The point of exploring possibilities lay in the expectation of developing foreign markets. The irrepressible Mr. Kamath asked whether any foreign market was ready to buy opium from us and Dr. Matthai replied that the question was under examination. We understand that a report has been submitted to the Finance Ministry to the effect that under the direction of technical experts, it was possible to expand the factory as well as to work it to its maximum capacity. What action has been taken on the report is not known. It is well worth considering whether the expenditure that will be required for this purpose, will be commensurate to the dollar-earning potentialities of the industry. Even then it is essential that the persons appointed to modernise and improve the factory are men who have some experience of the kind of work needed and can be trusted to put the industry on a sound basis. There have been for some weeks disquieting rumours that the choice of a director for carrying out the ambitious project has already been made and that, far from being a technical man, the individual is innocent of all but administrative experience. There seems little excuse for such a mistake in selection because without going out of their way it should have been possible to secure the services of the very individual who has investigated into the working of the Ghazipur Factory and reported on its possibilities. Since from all accounts it is expected that the medical demand for the product will be considerable from the U.S.A., the project must be run as a business, free from the least taint of bureaucratic amateurism. If it is worth exploiting the market — and with so few dollar-earning resources at our hand, few will question its value—it is worth doing well. It would be a bitter experience to the public which had set such store on Mr. Chintaman Deshmukh's acceptance of the Finance portfolio, if in a project under the direct control of his own Ministry things were to go awry. The Ghazipur factory is in the nature of a test case.

Thought For The Day

The spirit of liberty is not, as multitudes imagine, a jealousy of our own particular rights but a respect for the rights of others, and an unwillingness that anyone, whether high or low, should be wronged or trampled under foot.—William E. Channing.

CITY CORPORATION: WEEK BY WEEK

By "Citizen"

THREE meetings, full six hours discussion and yet hardly two dozen items on the October agenda really disposed of, that was the record of slow work in the City Corporation. More friction among the parties was noticeable during the week.

Priorities of notices of motion which are usually granted were refused to Opposition members more than once, and the Opposition retaliated by refusing to grant urgencies on two occasions as the majority party failed to get three fourths of those present on their side. The contest on both the occasions revealed very poor attendance in the House, less than fifty on one and less than sixty on the other being present.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

All the three meetings of the week were devoted to the consideration of October Agenda inspite of the fact that hardly any progress has been recorded during the last month. But this did not bring much result. Technically as many as 85 items have been covered but exactly three-fourths of these were mere applications from different institutions in the city for their annual grants from the Corporation. I heard grouses in Municipal circles that the expenditure on this item has been steadily rising and at least some of the so-called public institutions supposed to be doing "useful" social work happen to be of doubtful utility and it was time the matter was gone into and a limit was put to such expenditure. The Municipal Commissioner has expressed that view in the past and it is possible when the matter comes up this year that view might find more support.

JUVENILE PROBLEM

Among the other items discussed was the application of the Children's Aid Society. This semi-government institution has been doing really useful work and serves a great and real need of the city. But its annual report reveals an alarming rise in the number of juveniles who take to crime. In the Remand Home of the Society the number of admissions has been steadily rising from year to year. Even if one leaves out the early days of the twenties and takes into consideration the last two decades the number of admissions appears to be disturbing. In the year 1930 the total number for the year was 784 out of which 228 were from the city and 556 from outside. Ten years later the number went up to 1487 composed of 1041 from Bombay and 446 from outside. A rise of full hundred per cent with a much bigger slice of the rise coming from the city. The latest figures are still worse. Last year the total number of admissions was as high as 2711 with 2253 from Bombay and 458 from outside the city. The number of those from outside has not gone up in the same proportion as that in the city but that should not mislead any one. Crime in other cities and town is equally in the upward grade. The reason why we get smaller number from outside is that in other places where there were no arrangements for custody of children in the past, such arrangements have since then come into being. So far as the city is concerned the hundred per cent rise after every decade is much too alarming. It would be the height of complacency to neglect these figures by merely thinking that there has been equal rise in the population. Crowded conditions and the extreme poverty of sections of the people as well as lack of facilities for proper education may be the causes, but merely analysing the causes is not going to ease the situation. That crime is on the increase and the unfortunate fact that young minds are falling victims to it has got to be admitted and faced frankly. One of the replies to it is the existence of well-run Children's Homes. It is better to run these and try to save many a child from becoming a habitual criminal.

An interesting point that emerged out of the discussion was the fact that the Home has to spend Rs. 45/- per child per month. It was pointed out by Mr. Rohit Dave who is never tired of quoting figures, that if a charitable institution had to spend that amount on every child what must be the state of poor working class and middle class people with sizeable families in these days of economic stress and rising prices.

SUBURBAN REPRESENTATION

The House discussed and adopted the allocation of the seats to the different wards of the newly merged areas of the suburbs. There will be seven new wards in addition to the existing 34 in the old area of the city. The new wards will return in all 18 members. In this new arrangement Bandra can return five members from two wards, Andheri and Vile Parle will have as many wards and as many seats as Bandra. Kurla will have four seats but all of them will be returned from a single constituency. Chembur will have a single seat and a separate ward for it, being the only Ward in the city, perhaps the precursor of the single member constituencies which have to come in course of time if a proposal before the House is ultimately accepted. Ghatkopar will have one ward returning three members. The proposals invited comment and criticism from members from Bandra who felt representation to their town was inadequate. But the proposal found general support for it has been based on the actual voting strength of the localities and roughly one seat for every 10,000 voters has been allotted.

SCIENTIFIC DISTRIBUTION

The Opposition welcomed this first real attempt at a scientific distribution of seats which will bring equal representation to the different areas on the basis of their ppoulation and no area will have cause for complaint. Their spokesman pointed out the anomalies in the present set up for Corporation elections in which the distribution is gravely iniquitous. There are wards with 25,000 voters having two seats and in their vicinity are wards with hardly 10,000 more votes but which return as many as five councillors. Referring to the bold manner in which the Labour Party in Britain tackled the problem and removed similar anomalies from Parliamentary elections,

FRANKLY SPEAKING

A Revealing Resolution

Like Mr. Winston Churchill, his followers and fellow-Conservatives are also very much concerned about the future of Britain's Imperialism. They cannot endure to see it die. At the recent Conservative Party Conference, one promising Tory, namely, Mr. Julian Amery—worthy son of a worthy Imperialist father, Mr. L.S. Amery—denounced the British Labour Government for giving advanced constitutions to poor and backward countries. Mr. Julian Amery, inspired by wisdom and logic, unsurpassed by any but Tories, actually described this policy of the Labour Government as a mockery of self-Government and an open invitation to Communism! How can these blind and mentally self-imprisoned people be made to see what actually and historically constitutes an open invitation to Communism? And, of course, it would be impossible for them to realise that it is advanced and rich Europe that has made a mockery of more than self-Government, a tragic mockery of humanity and civilisation themselves by plunging the world into devastating wars. Incidentally, this Europe is preparing for an infinitely worse savagery than ever before. But "civilised" and "advanced" peoples cannot see it much less can the British Tory who feels he must save his evil heritage even if it entails disaster for his own country too. Therefore it is that the Conservative Party has unanimously passed a resolution viewing with alarm "the continued unrest and declining standards of ordered administration (!) in the Colonial Empire" and calling on the Party to "exert every effort to restore the confidence (sic) of colonial peoples in Britain's will to fulfil her imperial mission". The resolution doesn't need any comment except appreciation of its frank hypocrisy. For, anyone with a rudimentary knowledge of the history of Imperialism knows what "imperial mission" is and what is the meaning of "Britain's will to fulfil" it. It is, however, a useful resolution for the World because it is quite instructive and revealing.

Too Obvious

At a public meeting in Copenhagen, Mr. Winston Churchill has come out with a strong plea for a world super-Government. In his proposal he has shown himself to be realistic enough to recognise the position of the Soviet Union—as to the United States he has always been strikingly noteworthy for a gushing acknowledgment of the greatness of that country. But Mr. Churchill has not altogether denied himself or his life-long principles and passions. So that his realism is European and Imperial rather than global and cosmopolitan. There are, holds Mr. Churchill, "four main pillars of the world temple of peace", and they are "the United States with all its dependencies (sic), the British Empire and Commonwealth and a United Europe with which Great Britain is profoundly blended". What it essentially looks like is a plan of a world super-Government run by a new Big Four: the U. S., the Soviet Union, Great Britain and—a United Europe. Apparently, Mr. Churchill would divide the world into four parts each virtually belonging to or dominated by one of his Big Four. Where do Asia and Africa come in in this set up and what will be their position and status? Incidentally what will be the rights, duties and destiny of the coloured races in this set up? Mr. Churchill is realistic enough to realise that the Soviet Union has come to stay with its wide influence and he is seeking to make the best of it. But realising also that Europe and White civilisation are losing their old dominance over the world, he wants to save and consolidate that dominance—with the assistance even of the Soviet Union. So far as Mr. Churchill is concerned it is a brilliant move. But it is too obvious and too unpractical.

The Old And The New

While accepting the gift of an Allis Chalmers family farm tractor, Pandit Nehru said, "We must base our method of production on the latest discoveries because, if we base them on out of date methods, we cannot compete successfully with other countries". It is true that we must adopt scientific methods and make full use of researches made in advanced countries but the application must be made with sound experience. For this purpose, we must have thorough knowledge of the past history of atleast a few decades. The question of food-grains is receiving the highest priority and several plans are under consideration to attain self-sufficiency. Only a few years back, we were producing all our requirements of food-grains in this country. But the introduction of mechanised transport system in this country did away with the use of Bullocks which were the main driving factor in our transport. Thus, India was rich in its cattle wealth as the huge supply of cow-dung at cheap cost used to enrich the agricultural land and the fertility was kept up to a satisfactory level. But with the introduction of mechanised transport, the question of fertility was utterly neglected and that is the main reason why we are short of our food supply. It must also be remembered that the United States of America has so far had virgin land. They wanted more land under cultivation and, the supply of labour being restricted, mechanised tractors proved a boon. But in this country we have a large supply of manual labour which remains mostly idle for about six months in a year. So we have only a limited use of mechanised tractors to increase the area under cultivation. But the area which is already under cultivation has very little use of tractors as it needs attention for increasing its fertility. The absence of the tractor is not the only and main reason for deficit production of food-grains in this country.

OUR READERS' VIEWS

Anti-Bigamy Act

The cupidity of some rich men and the stupidity of young women often results in evasion of the Anti-Bigamy Act. With the amendment of 1948, the offence of bigamy has been made cognizable and even so, the Police are not prompt in taking necessary action, with the result that many commit this offence openly.

To take an illustration, A, a married Hindu, ordinarily resident in the Bombay State induces a young unmarried girl residing in the same territory or outside it, to go to another State of the Indian Union and get married. Under the Anti-bigamy Act such a marriage has no effect in Civil Law and the woman would remain under the illusion that she has a legal status as a wife. The couple then return to the State of Bombay and live together as husband and wife in open defiance of the Law. The offence of bigamy under this Act is made punishable both, for the man and the woman with imprisonment upto seven years.

Before the investigating Police Officers or the trying Magistrate, the couple usually offer one of the following defences:—

(1) That they have renounced the Hindu religion and are no longer Hindus. Such a renunciation by itself does not operate as a dissolution of the first marriage.

(2) That the couple have renounced their domicile in the Bombay State even though they might return to their former place of residence for earning a livelihood. Such a renunciation of domicile is not permitted by the new constitution of Independant India and the plea of change of domicile would be regarded as illegal and void.

(3) That the marriage ceremony had taken place outside the Bombay State and therefore the local Court had no territorial jurisdiction to inquire into or try the offence. Such a plea is sometimes wrongly accepted by a Magistrate. It is true that the ordinary place of trial is the place where the offence was committed according to sec. 177 of the Criminal Procedure Code, but sec. 179 of the Code provides that the trial can take place where the consequence ensues and under sec. 182 of the Criminal Procedure Code, it can also be tried in more than one local area wherever the offence might be continued. Section 186 of that Code provides for offences committed in Indian States Unions who have acceded to the Union of India. The living together as husband and wife in a bigamous marriage is a continuing offence and the natural consequence of the marriage ceremony performed outside the region for a fraudulent evasion of the penalties of the crime.

One or other of the above defences is sometimes accepted by the Appellate Courts of Sessions in appeals against the conviction or acquittal by Magistrates within the districts of Bombay. The facts might be different in different cases, but test cases on the questions of law ought to be brought before the High Court of Bombay to give the necessary guidance to the investigating Officers of the Police Department. In the meanwhile, rich or influential persons would continue to defy the law by corruption or influencing Police Officers. This is only the natural consequence of an uncertainty of any law. Sec. 190(1) (C) empowers a Presidency or District or Sub-Divisional Magistrate to take cognisance on his own suspicion.

Though such second marriages confer no civil rights, on the second wife, such unions will have the status of a free marriage outside the law, and the couple will part from each other at the sweet will of either, much to the tragic consequences of the disillusioned girl to lead a life of abject misery, poverty and shame, unless she has managed to secure a sufficient provision against poverty during the period while such a marriage lasted.

Birth Control

Great leaders, politicians and economists are thinking deeply how to meet the growing menace of unemployment and poverty, by increasing the production or decreasing the birth rate. Where the former becomes impossible, the latter comes inevitable. Now the birth control has become the common talk of the public as a solution for this problem. Many people oppose it on the ground that birth control is unnatural and anti-religious. I cannot understand how it becomes unnatural when every thing in a civilized man's life is unnatural. Taking cooked food, covering our nakedness, undergoing a surgical operation and travelling by mechanical means, in short any thing in our every day life is unnatural. Nature prescribes us a limit for every thing and means to avoid the dangers of excesses. When man violates the principles of nature in his life, he suffers from it evil consequences. Bringing into the world a child without sufficient means to bring him up is a greater sin than to control his birth on the earth. When a child grows up emaciated and ill without getting sufficient food and medicines and dies early, his fate cannot be attributed to God or to any body else, but to his parents. Earthquakes, famines, floods, pertilences and wars control the world's population when man fails to do it. It is time to introduce birth control in our country according to our wealth and resources and to one's means and income.

"ALL ENCOURAGEMENT" TO PRIVATE INDUSTRY

Industries Minister's Promise

CUTTACK, Oct. 13 (PTI).

THE Industries and Supply Minister, Mr. Harekrushna Mahatab today assured "all encouragement" to private industry in the country and discounted "loose talk" of nationalisation.

He said encouragement to private industry might take the form of (1) Government efforts to create public confidence in such industries, (2) Granting of import licences and (3) In necessary cases giving any kind of guarantee required.

He advocated regional development of industries and their spreading out.

The Government, he said, had never thought of nationalisation except on the basis of controlled economy. The last session of the Congress had also passed a resolution on the subject. It had said nothing on nationalisation as such, he said.

The Industries Minister, who was speaking before the Orissa Chamber of Commerce here said: "I am assuring all parties in India that private industry will be encouraged in all possible ways. It is not a fact that on account of the talk of nationalisation of industries there was not enough growth of industries in the country. It is a wrong judgment."

To say that talk of nationalisation scared away capital was "merely propaganda either through ignorance or for some other purpose" Mr. Mahatab said.

Mr. Mahatab said money was not concentrated in a few hands now. Agriculturists and workers were now much better off than before. The middle class which was supplying the capital was now very much harassed. This could be very well imagined from the figures for money which even people in a poor state like Orissa had contributed to the war fund and the small savings scheme during war time.

NO SCARE

Mr. Mahatab said the talk of nationalisation was scaring away the capitalists and not scaring away the industries. The industries were developing very well and he had no doubt that within two or three years they would have a good expansion of the industries.

Referring to protection to industries Mr. Mahatab said that too much stress should not be laid on this. For instance alluminium was now receiving a total of Rs. 50 to Rs. 60 lakhs help in the shape of subsidy and protection. The total capacity of 20,000 tons production was not reached at all. This showed that the management of the industry was not satisfactory.

Mr. Mahatab said that regional development of industries was necessary. From that point of view industries must be spread as far as possible in the country. As a result of the Bombay textile strike he said the cloth position of the country was upset. This was so as most of the textile mills were concentrated in Bombay.

NO DIFFERENCE

Mr. Mahatab claimed that there was no difference between the present policy pursued by the Government of India and the policy enunciated by Gandhiji.

While the manufacture of consumer goods would be left to private enterprise, industries like iron and steel would have to be taken up by the Government. The country imported 2,500,000 tons of iron and steel and owing to the Korean War an international hoarding of this commodity had started.

Under such circumstances it was very difficult for countries like India to manage. It might be difficult for them even to manage to get fifty per cent of their requirements from abroad. It was said that about 30 crores capital would be required for raising the factory for such industry.

Mr. Mahatab said they had to find this capital and start at least one of the two required iron and steel factories immediately.

IMPROVE QUALITY

Mr. Mahatab then referred to the quality and the prices of the goods manufactured in India. He said the swadeshi movement was brought "into disrepute" by some of the producers. It had no appeal now because of the misconduct of the producers.

Therefore he wanted them to correct themselves and prove that swadeshi things were good and that they were not very much costlier than the foreign goods. The consumers could pay higher prices if they were given for ten per cent above the imported goods but not more.

U. N. SHIPS BOMBARD KOREAN COASTS

Rumours Of Impending Amphibious Landing

TOKYO, Oct. 13 (PTI-Reuter).

UNITED Nations warships and planes today pounded both coasts of Northern Korea within a few miles of the Manchurian and Siberian borders.

The bombardment to the north-east started rumours of an impending amphibious landing in support of ground forces battering on towards the Communist capital.

As unconfirmed reports came in that the Chinese Communists were intending to occupy the narrow strip of North Korea across the Yalu river by the Manchurian frontier, a powerful mixed naval force shelled and bombed east coast ports.

A fleet of thirty-seven ships, including Commonwealth vessels and America's biggest battleship, the 45,000-ton "Missouri", attacked a 120-mile stretch of coast south of Chonhjin.

Rumours of Chinese action in the north were believed by observers here to be based on two assumptions: (1) A Chinese wish to keep important hydro-electric installations on the Yalu river out of even the remotest American control. They serve most of Manchuria's modern industrial plants with power.

(2) A Chinese desire to provide North Koreans with a base for a refugee government.

DELAYING ACTION

The North Koreans were tonight having some success in delaying General MacArthur's main forces driving across the thirty-eighth parallel from Kaesong.

They were putting up stubborn resistance from concrete pill-boxes and log bunkers around encircled Kumchon.

Assaulted from all sides, Kumchon was expected to fall by tomorrow, despite the stiffest opposition United Nations forces have encountered north of the parallel.

The Communist aim was believed to be to hold up the drive on Pongyang, to enable the Northerners to toughen their defences and prepare for a last-ditch stand.

Pilots today reported a Northern back-to-Pyongyang movement all along the front but heavy resistance was still encountered in the centre of the peninsula.

Superforts swung far north today and struck the Communists from coast to coast to prevent supplies and reinforcements from reaching the battlefront.

American supplies planes and repair squads have been preparing the Wonsan airstrip, second best in Korea, for United Nations fighters and bombers. The first airstrip is Kimpo near Seoul.

60,000 PRISONERS

A large Communist force has been reported in the Mokpo area in the extreme south-west corner of the peninsula. Fifteen thousand rearmed troops and two thousand with small arms were said to be in a five square mile district round the port.

General MacArthur's headquarters announced today that sixty thousand North Koreans had been captured since the campaign began, 1,400 of them in the past 24 hours.

SERIOUS DANGER!

SAN FRANCISCO.—North Korean Premier has warned his followers that "serious danger hangs over our motherland", according to a Peking broadcast heard here today.

The Peking broadcast said he made the speech on Wednesday in Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Observers here said it appeared to be the Communist leader's first real acknowledgement that his regime faces defeat. Earlier he had definitely expressed confidence of "final victory."

The Communist leader blamed the war on Dr. Syngman Rhee, South Korean President, who, he said, acted "on instructions of American imperialists", according to the broadcast.

HARVESTING ON

LONDON.—Harvesting in North Korea is "proceeding successfully despite cruel enemy bombing", according to Pyongyang North Korean radio.

A Tass official Soviet news agency report quotes the radio as saying harvesting began 28 days earlier than last year.

"The peasants are striving to bring in the harvest in good time and without loss and send to the front as much as possible," the radio said.

PUGREE CASE APPEAL

Supreme Court Grants Leave

NEW DELHI, Oct. 13: The Supreme Court granted Special Leave to Appeal to Mr. W. H. King, a Bombay businessman who was convicted and fined Rs. 30,000 by a Presidency Magistrate of Bombay.

In December 1948, Mr. King was arrested by the C.I.D., Bombay, for taking Rs. 30,000 as pugree for transferring his flat to one Mulchand Kodumal Bhatia. He was tried by the Presidency Magistrate, 19th Court, Bombay, for an offence under Sec. 19(2) of Bombay Rent Restriction Act and convicted.

He appeal to the Bombay High Court against his conviction but the appeal was summarily rejected by a Criminal Division Bench consisting of Mr. Justice Bawdekar and Mr. Justice Chainani. Subsequently Mr. King applied to the Bombay High Court for a certificate to appeal to Supreme Court under Act 134 (c) of the Constitution but that application was rejected by Mr. Justice Gajendragadkar and Mr. Justice Vyas.

In September 1950 Mr. King filed a Petition for Special Leave to appeal to Supreme Court. It was heard by a Division Bench consisting of the Chief Justice Harilal Kania, Mr. Justice Patanjali Shastri and Mr. Justice Chandrasekhar Iyer.

LACUNAE

It was contended by Mr. Ishwarlal C. Dalal, Advocate for Mr. King that Sec. 15 of the Rent Act was not made a penal Section and there was a lacunae in the Rent Act. The Legislature had used the words "relinquishment of his tenancy" advisedly in Sec. 19 of the Act and they applied to a tenant who surrendered his tenancy to the landlord or to a tenant who transferred his tenancy to a third party with the consent of the landlord.

Mr. Dalal also contended that the Scheme of the Rent Act was to punish under Sec. 18 landlords who took pugree and Section 19 applied to tenants who took pugree from the landlords for surrendering their tenancy. Mr. Dalal further contended that the question of interpretation of Sections 15, 18 and 19 of the Rent Act was very important and in view of that an authoritative decision was called for from the Supreme Court. Their Lordships granted Special Leave to Mr. King in the circumstances.

Mr. Ishwarlal C. Dalal, Advocate, Supreme Court, appeared for Mr. King instructed by Mr. P. K. Chatterjee, Agent.

Free Market For Canadian Dollars

LONDON, Oct. 13, (PTI-Reuter): From next Monday the Canadian dollar will be a free market in London, as it already is in New York and Canada. The Bank of England will cease to fix a daily rate for it.

Instead, the rate will fluctuate in accordance with supply demand, in a free market between the banks.

Canadian dollars held by British residences will still have to be surrendered to the treasury, but at the free market rate instead of a fixed rate.

500 CLAIMS FILED

NEW DELHI, Oct. 13 (PTI): Nearly 500 claims have been filed so far by displaced persons from Pakistan who had re-migrated from India to other countries, it was learnt here today. These include the claims filed by persons who are at present in Jammu and Kashmir State. All these claimants had been permitted to file their claims by post.

From the armed services—the other class of persons who were permitted to file their claims directly my post—about 850 claims have been received. This, it is stated, is in addition to the large number of claims filed in the ordinary way by displaced persons in the armed forces.

Mills Attendance Swells Up

OVER 72 THOUSAND RESUME WORK

BOMBAY, Friday.

Sporadic assaults intimidations and stone-throwing were reported from the labour area this morning, on the 60th day of Bombay's illegal textile strike. Attendance at the mills shot up and reports indicated that a larger section of the millworkers preferred to return to work as a result of the disappointing nature of the Appellate Tribunal's Award but were being prevented from doing so by other strikers.

Police reported one case of assault from DeLisle Road.

Seven persons, including Tej Bahadur a worker of the Mill Mazdoor Sabha, were arrested this morning when 30 millworkers attempted to take out a procession on Fergusson Road. The processionists shouted slogans and jeered at policemen. They were dispersed.

Three cases of stone throwing were reported from Kalachowki, Lower Parel and Bhoiwada areas. A case of stabbing was reported from Byculla area.

Only six out of the 62 mills in Bombay did not work in the first shift today. In all 64 mills were functioning during the two shifts with a complement of 72,290 workers. While most of the mills reported a full attendance a few worked with short staff. The attendance showed considerable improvement over yesterday's figure which stood at 63,628 workers, in 57 mills.

REMEDY IN CASE GROUNDS OF DETENTION ARE VAGUE

Supreme Court Resumes Hearing Of Punjab Detenu's Case

NEW DELHI, Oct. 13 (PTI).

IS a detenu entitled to be released if the grounds of detention supplied to him are not specific enough to enable him to make a representation to the detaining authority?

This important point of law was discussed in the Supreme Court today when hearing of the Punjab detenu, Jagjit Singh's habeas corpus petition was resumed.

The Attorney-General, Mr. M. C. Setalvad, replying to the arguments of Mr. N. S. Bindra, petitioner's counsel, said that the remedy for non-compliance with Article 22 (5) of the Constitution which provided for detens being enabled to make representation was not release. The relief, he said, was a writ of mandamus asking the authority to enable him to make a representation.

Mr. Justice Fazl Ali said that mandamus in such a case would not be a suitable relief as it "sweeps away the provision under Article 22 (5). On the other hand, habeas corpus would be a more proper remedy, because the detenu has been detained under procedure not sanctioned by law".

On supplementary grounds, the Attorney-General said that there was nothing in Article 22 (5) which restricted the grounds being given only in one instalment.

Mr. Justice Chandrashekhar Aiyar observed that additional grounds could not be something on which the authority's mind could have operated in detaining a person.

Mr. Justice Mukherjee said that normally it could be presumed that the grounds supplied first were the only grounds existing. In the event of an inordinate delay in supplying the grounds there might be malafide.

VAGUE GROUNDS

Earlier, during arguments on the meaning of vague grounds, M. Justice Mukherjee said that it was a Fundamental right of a person under preventive detention that the grounds which enabled him to make a representation were supplied to him.

The Attorney-General said that first the detaining authority formed the opinion that a man's remaining free was prejudicial to public security After he was detained on that basis, he was served with grounds. The ground for the opinion or conclusion could be: the person was attending Communist Party meetings advocating violence.

Mr. Justice Mukherjee said that correlation was intended by Constitution-makers between serving of the grounds and ability of the detenu to make a representation. The fact that it was stated in the Constitution that facts whose disclosure was prejudicial to public Security were not to be given, presupposed that other facts were to be given in the grounds.

Mr. Setalvad said that the fact that there was a connection between the two did not mean that all facts should be given to the detenu.

Mr. Justice Mukherjee said that the authority could give in the ground the substance of facts which led the authority to detain the person.

Mr. Setalvad said that the conclusion that the ground of the detenu's association with the Communist Party by reason of his attending its meetings would enable him to make a representation.

Mr. Justice Fazl Ali asked how a representation could be made only on that ground.

NOT VAGUE

Mr. B. K. Khanna, Advocate-General for the Punjab, said that the ground that the detenu attended Communist Party meetings at which he was "preparing masses for a violent revolutionary campaign" was not vague.

Mr. Justice Mukherjee said that it did not enable him to make a representation as required by Article 22 (5). He could at best deny it.

Mr. Justice Aiyer said that though the detenu complained that the ground which was originally supplied was vague, the authority again served the same ground after a year and nine months' detention.

That was lack of bona fide, he added.

TELEPHONES

lephone forty years ago; the entire communication system, and the shape of the telephone instrument having undergone series of changes!

The telephone system, which thirty years ago was working on an "Operator-call" basis, underwent a gradual period of transition in its change-over to the "Direct Line" service; a change-over which involved the conversion of "a magneto" exchange to the "Circuit Battery Exchange" resulting finally in the modern exchange.

STREETS AHEAD

The new exchange, which though not as technically perfected as those used in the United Kingdom and the United States of America, is still in the words of Mr. Rangnekar "streets ahead" of the old exchange now in use in Bombay.

Manufactured to accommodate double the number of lines than the old exchanges, the new exchange is a mechanical improvement over the old ones. It obliterates the difficulties experienced in the old exchange due to accumulation of dirt and dust through a simple contrivance which serves the double purposes of "connecting" the digits while clearing the dirt. Since the parts in any exchange are very sensitive and are capable of going out of gear "at the slightest provocation", the new exchange have the advantage of a stronger structure to commend them.

Half the floor space on the Gell Street buildings have been allotted for the erection of the new exchange, while the other half encloses the old exchange. Gradually, it is hoped that the entire floor space will be covered by new exchanges.

The successful erection of the new exchange is in a large measure due to the forethought and planning of Superintending Engineer, Mr. G. W. L. Berry and the engineering skill of Mr. Jelliman of the Gell Street exchange.

INTERNMENT ORDER HELD VOID

Important Ruling By Calcutta High Court

CALCUTTA, Oct. 13, (PTI): The Calcutta High Court held today that sections 21 and 22 of the West Bengal Security Act, 1950 (power to make orders restricting the movement or actions of certain persons) were ultra vires of the Constitution.

The question arose out of rules obtained by the petitioners—Atarali and Tazammal—for issue of writs in the nature of mandamus in respect of notices issued by the State Government directing them not to enter or remain within the district of 24-Parganas.

Mr. Justice Mookerji and Mr. Justice Guha observed that after careful consideration of the provisions contained in Section 21 and 22 of the Act, there was no escape from the conclusion that the restrictions imposed by them on the free movement of a citizen were not reasonable.

Their Lordships passed similar orders in the rules obtained by three other petitioners and held that the orders for their internment were invalid.

AHMEDABAD, Oct. 13, (PTI): Four volunteers of the Gujerat Seva Dal were drowned in the River Vatrak today. They were having a dip in the river after attending the inaugural ceremony of the three day rally in the morning.

CITY CORPORATON: WEEK BY WEEK

by passing the Peoples' Representation Act of 1948, although it meant smaller representation for industrial areas than what they had enjoyed so far, he suggested that the city of Bombay should give a lead in this respect and remove the existing anomalies.

The arrangement now made for the suburban area is however of a temporary nature and may have to be used in case of any necessity of by-election from those areas. By the time general elections to the City Corporation come, it is likely that the entire set up will undergo a major change. The Mayor who is also the chairman of the Delimitation Committee of Bombay State clarified the issue by stating that Greater Bombay has now been divided in 27 wards for the purposes of forthcoming Assembly elections, and while doing so the actual population basis has been taken into consideration. It has been found out that adult voters are generally 51 per cent of the total population and since it is certain that the census in February next year will give exact figures of population in different areas of the city the Corporation will be in a position to allocate proper number of seats to each area. He pointed out that the present ill-balance was there because apart from population, rateable value of the properties in the wards was also taken into consideration in the past. All that will and must change with the introduction of adult suffrage. It will be necessary to pay proper attention to these problems as and when they arise for proper functioning of democratic institutions rests not to a small degree on the manner and method in which these institutions are brought into being

PRIORITIES REFUSED

The refusal of priorities to some members of the Opposition for notices of motions standing in their names and the consequent retaliation by the Opposition in the shape of refusal to urgencies asked by the Municipal Commissioner, have led to a situation not far from a crisis. On Thursday while the Opposition allowed urgency to one item the moment a second attempt was made they voted against the grant of urgency. Thirteen Socialists voted against and since the Congress Party and its other supporters together could not muster more than 35 which was four short than the necessary three-fourths of those present they lost it. While counting the votes of Congress supporters hurriedly trooping in from the Tea Room the Mayor administered a warning that on such occasions in future he would count the votes of those members alone who were in their seats. The hint was understood by both the sides and one could see a larger number of chairs filled. Some time later a little before the House was to rise for the day another attempt was made to secure urgency for an item. Both the parties had mobilised their respective strength, of course only that which was easily available. The result of the counting, however, showed that 15 were opposed to the grant and since the majority could not muster more than 42 and was again short by three votes the urgency was refused.

REPRESENTATION ON COMMITTEES

I may mention that this is not the first occasion when urgency has been refused in the House. Last year before the parties reached an agreement on the issue of representation on Municipal Committees and especially the B.E.S.T. Committee, refusal of urgencies was a weapon used by the opposition and the majority had even to resort to the need of calling special meetings to get through some items of the official agenda. This time the quarrel is on a much simpler issue. It is the hangover of the fateful 31st of August, when the Congress amendment curtailing the time of speakers still further than what was agreed in the Law Revenue Committee was passed by the majority in the absence of the Socialists.

An intriguing result of the holding up of the business is the question whether the House will be able to enjoy the usual Divali Holidays. At one of the meetings Mayor Patil who enjoys a good holiday and is equally keen on giving it to the Councillors, referred to the matter and expressed a desire to be able to give a fortnight's —or three weeks' rest, but he wondered if in view of the accumulation of work it would be possible to do so this year. Coming week might show if there will be any settlement on the point and the Corporation will have a holiday or the Mayor will decide to curtail it and ask the quarrelling Councillors to meet and discuss items some of which may appear to be as dry as dust.

Indian Film Fare

"MAHAL" AN ARTISTIC ACHIEVEMENT

THE PRE-EMINENCE WHICH HAS BEEN HITHERTO MAINTAINED IN EVERY BRANCH OF FILMIC ART SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE TO BE SHAKEN. GOOD PICTURES COME, BAD PICTURES COME, A VAST NUMBER OF UTTER MEDIOCRITIES FLOOD THE SCREEN, BUT AS FAR AS THE AVERAGE CINE-GOER IS CONCERNED, THE TECHNICAL, EXCELLENCE AND GENERAL POLISH WHICH THE FILM CAPITAL OF THE WORLD SOMEHOW MANAGES TO IMPART TO ITS PRODUCT, HAS SO FAR BEEN COMPLETELY ABSENT IN INDIA.

Bombay Talkies, in the former days, was a name to conjure with. Under the direction of the late Himansu Rai, the pictures that came from the studio gave a lead to the rest of the studios in the matter of excellence. Then this famous studio struck a bad patch. Its latest release, "Mahal" is more than likely to shoot Bombay Talkies back to the pre-eminent position it once held in the film world.

"Mahal" is one of the rare Indian films which can be judged with complete honesty and still be declared a masterpiece. The story of the picture is a complete departure from the hackneyed plots with which we are apt to be plagued year after year. The story is by Kamal Amrohi, and bears the stamp of genius. It deals with the reincarnation of the soul and stars Ashok Kumar and Madhubala in the main leads. Both these great artists give of their best in this film and their beautifully graded characterisations are a delight to watch.

Particularly as regards technique, India is not years, but decades behind the rest of the world. Attempts have been made in the past to improve local films, but whether it be due to the fact that "box—office" is of paramount importance, or whether it is merely because being slip-shod the so-called "screen masterpieces" rarely rise above the level of utterly futile mediocrity.

Therefore the advent of a picture like Bombay Talkies' "MAHAL" is not only of the greatest importance to the local film industry, but will likely act as a pointer to the rest of the world that Indian producers have atlast got out of the rut in which they have stagnated for so long and have decided to make a picture that does not desecrate the universally accepted canons of art.

Magnificent Achievement

This combination of Madhubala and Ashok Kumar is likely to prove most popular with a great many picturegoers, for each seems to understand the other and each manages to get utmost in dramatic values from every scene without consciously endeavouring to steal the show.

Film technicians are, as a rule, fairly conservative in giving praise—at least when it is off the record. In the case of "Mahal", all who have seen it, have come out with complete and unstinted praise. Directors find that the wielding of the megaphone in this vehicle is done supremely well. Those who are used to accepting talk of great acting with a pinch of salt are equally enthusiastic about the histrionic qualities of the picture.

Novel Theme Dealt In "Chocolate"

"Chocolate", produced by Indiana Pictures depicts the patriotic heroism of the Indian community in Indo-China in the fight for freedom which is being waged by the people there. The story is written by an Englishman who plays the part of a colonel of the Foreign Legion in the film. The plot revolves around life in a hotel in Saigon.

The cast stars well-known comedian Agha, Urvashi and Shanti Madhok, with Vimla and Stevens in the support. "Chocolate" has several gorgeous dance number by Shanti Madhok.

We learn that Mr. M. Satyavantha Rao, the proprietor of Messrs The Filmic with offices at Vizagapatam and Bezwada has secured the sole rights for the entire South for this fine film.

Ice-Skating In "Dholak"

SCENES IN NATURAL COLOURS

Roop K. Shorey noted for giving something novel in every picture, has another surprise in store for picture-goers in his forthcoming film "Dholak", which is expected to be released throughout the country by the end of next month.

Said to be a better picture and a more amusing comedy than "Ek-Thi-Larki", "Dholak" will be the first Indian picture to have scenes of ice-skating skilfully executed by Meena and the other artistes featured in this film.

It is announced that the most important scenes will be in natural colours and for this special arrangements have been made with the laboratories in the U.K. where the copies will be developed and printed by the "Chromo-process".

ROUSING RECEPTION TO 'BABUL'

INTENSELY heart moving is the story of Sunny Art Productions' song spangled and romantic offering "Babul" which has scored an overwhelming success at Delhi, Lahore, Karachi and Lucknow. It has shattered box-office records by grossing the highest figures so far noted for these centres. "Babul" had its gala premiere on Thursday, October 12 at 9-30 p.m. at Ercelsior, Lamington, Chitra and Kismet, and it was accorded a rousing reception by enthusiastic crowds of film fans.

Released through Messrs. Tarachand Pictures, "Babul" is a triumph for director S. U. Sunny, producer and composer Naushad, and the director of photography, Fali Mistry. A brilliant array of top-notch artistes—Nargis, Dilip Kumar, Munawar Sultana and Amar—highlight the cast. "Babul" has a fine story of love, sacrifice and courage, and the treatment is such that every sequence provides scope for the talents of the artistes and technicians.

But the main attraction of "Babul" lies in the sweet and lilting music by the screen's ace musician Naushad who has spared no pains to make every song a hit. "Babul" will long be remembered for its engrossing story, its lovely songs and its imaginative direction.

ANOTHER FILM ON GANESH

Director Jayant Desai is making brisk progress with the shooting of "Ganesh Janma" which is expected to hit a new high mythological.

Though several pictures have depicted story of Ganesh in one form or other, absolute authenticity is the watchword in this mythological.

The picture casts Nirupa Roy and Trilok Kapur, with Jeevan, Ulhas, Vasant Pehelwan and Jugnu leading the supporting cast. Master Pravin plays the role of Ganesh, while Sagar has written the dialogue and Pandit Bharat Vyas the lyrics.

NIMMI HAS FINE ROLE IN 'JALTE DEEP'

Nihal Film's "Jalte Deep" which is running for second week has the freshness of youth about it. It shows the place of the educated wife in the modern home and how educated girls adapt themselves to environment. Director Deepak Asha has handled the theme.

Nimmi gives a fine performance, ably demonstrating what a capable artiste she is in this role. Kuldeep and Amarkanth are also good.

Dialogues and songs are an asset that enhance the appeal of the picture. Production values are of a high standard.

"BANWARA" HAS PLENTY OF MUSIC

It is directed by G. Rakesh and has stars as Raj Kapoor and Nimmi in the leading roles with K. N. Singh, Hiralal, Sunder and Lalita Pawar in support. The musical score has been provided by Krishna Dayal, while the photography by Rajendra Malone is a novelty by itself.

Sahu's Another Venture

A keen lover of art and beauty, Kishore Sahu used the beautiful outdoors of Naini Tal for his "Sawan Aya Re". Now for his forthcoming social "Kali Ghata" he has selected a number of famous locations for the outdoor shooting in order to get a beautiful scenic background.

He has left with his entire team—comprising artistes, cameramen and sound-recordists for South India.

According to schedule, Kishore Sahu will have the actual outdoors in the world famous caues of Ajanta and Ellora with a background of stone carvings, frescoes and historical monuments which represent the ancient heritage of this country. Later he will shoot scenes at Ootacamund.

VEER BABRUVAHAN HAS GOOD MUSIC

Theme From Mahabharat

Producer Homi Wadia has brought an inspired theme from the Mahabharat to the screen in "Veer Babruvahan."

Babruvahan, the son of Arjun married Chitrangada daughter of king of Manipur, well known down the centuries for its art and dancing. On hearing that she had given birth to a son, Babruvahan doubted her chastity and deserted her. Maharshi Narad induced her to wipe out the blot and she made Babruvahan a hero—who faced his father in open battle.

Beautifully-worded songs by Arjun Jaipuri set to sparkling tunes by Chitragupta are a delight. Huge settings, rich costumes and spectacular scenes hold the attention.

KASHYAP TO PRODUCE HIS OWN FILMS

Producer director D. D. Kashyap has created a unique position for himself through pictures like "Chand", "Nargis", "Pyar Ki Jeet" and "Bari Bahen". Now he starts out as a indepenent producer.

For his first film, the theme of the eternal quest for happiness in life has been chosen.

A team of expert technicians and artistes has been chosen for the picture. Rajendra Sinha Bedi is writing the dialogue and Anil Biswas is composing the musical score.

The star-studded cast is led by Madhubala, Dev Anand. Premnath, Durga Khote and Baby Tabassum.

"Magroor" In 7th Week

Running in its seventh week at Super, Wadia Films Ltd's "Magroor" is well worth a visit.

Meenakumari rises to great heights in "Magroor", while old timers Durga Khote and Jilloo enhance the charm of the acting. Nigar and Rehman are the romantic pair.

CONSERVATION OF OUR ANCIENT MONUMENTS

Centre Chalks Out A Programme

NEW DELHI, Oct. 13 (PTI).

THE Archaeological Department of the Government of India has undertaken a heavy programme of conservation of ancient monuments at a cost of about Rs. 14 lakhs.

The monuments selected for conservation include the Taj Mahal, the Gol Gumbaz at Bijapur, Elephanta and Kanhere Caves in Western India, the Brihadiswara temple paintings at Tanjore, the Konarak temple and the rock cut temples at Mahabalipura.

Besides these, the department proposes to undertake extensive and much needed repairs to the fort at Chittorgarh in Rajasthan, as soon as the fort is taken over by it.

Built on high cliffs, the three and a half mile long Chittorgarh fort contains several temples, palaces and two towers, the famous Jai Stambh and Kirti Stambh which, according to archaeological authorities need urgent attention of an expert of the Department. Special repairs are to be carried out to the 122 foot high tower of victory there. Its storeys are covered with architectural ornaments and sculptures.

REPAIRS

Special repairs are proposed to be done to the Seven Pagodas of the Mahabalipura temples, described as one of the most remarkable pieces of architecture in India. The Pagodas, also called Raths, are monoliths.

For repairs to inlay work in the Taj Mahal, the Department has requisitioned the services of local craftsmen of Agra, said to be the descendents of the original artisans who built the mausoleum.

These and other repairs to the Taj were recommended by an Advisory Committee set up by the Government of India in 1943. Most of these recommendations have already been carried out.

K.E.M. Silver Jubilee

GREATER AMENITIES ON THE ANVIL

Medicos To Come Out With Their Begging Bowl!

BOMBAY, Friday.

ONE of the largest groups of public hospitals in Bombay popularly known as the K.E.M. and associated with it, the G. S. Medical College, will be celebrating their Silver Jubilee in the third week of January next. An elaborate programme has already been chalked out by an influential Co-ordination and Executive Committee, already appointed for the purpose.

The six-day programme starting from January 22 will include a series of lectures by well-known medicos and popular as well as scientific medical subjects and several dramatic performances in all the important languages of the city.

A PROCESSION

The highlight of the programme is a procession of doctors and nurses, which will parade the important thoroughfares of the city—all of them of course with their "begging bowls" for the fund to be collected in the aid of the hospital.

During the celebration-week all the institutions of the Hospital as well as the College, will be thrown open to the general public for the first three days. There will also be an exhibition in which the public with the help of posters and diagrams will be shown how some of the most malignant diseases like T.B., typhoid and cancer are caused and how they can be prevented. There will also be a scientific exhibition meant for medical students only.

COLLECTING FUNDS

As Dr. R. N. Cooper, Chairman of the Publicity Committee of the Celebrations said at a Press Conference this evening that the main objective of the celebrations is to collect funds with a view to expanding the scope of activities of both the institutions. Asked about the target that was aimed at the doctor jocularly remarked that it was the "sky" itself.

Dr. Cooper observed that their first objective was the construction of a medical Research Laboratory which was badly needed for the hospital. He said that research was not carried out in the medical field as it ought to have been, and hence they had decided to collect at least Rs 25 lakhs for the purpose. In this connection the Committee had appealed to the city millowners for liberal donations, and he was confident that their response would be encouraging.

CONVALESCENT HOME

The Committee also wanted to collect funds for the purpose of giving the hospital a 100-bed Convalescent Home of its own. This was with a view to avoiding pressure on the hospital beds by shifting there those patients who had already recovered, but who wanted rest to recuperate their health completely before being discharged from the hospital. The cost of building the Home was estimated at Rs. five lakhs. However Rs. 5 lakhs more were wanted for equipment and maintenance. Out of this amount Rs. three lakhs had already been collected from the Poor-Box Fund of the Hospital. This was nothing but voluntary contribution from the patients of the Hospital.

POOR BOYS' FUND

Members of the Committee had also in view the collection of a "poor boys fund" and the construction of a stadium for the college gymkhana. There were many intelligent students who deserved monetary help for prosecuting their studies. They will be given scholarships out of the new fund to be created for them. The scheme for the construction of the Stadium was already sanctioned by the Bombay Municipal Corporation.

OVERCROWDED HOSPITAL

Dr. R. G. Dhayagude, the Dean of the G. S. Medical College and the Chairman of the Co-ordination and the Executive Committee of the jubilee celebrations, who was also present at the press conference, pointed out in reply to a question that the hospital was already overcrowded. The scheduled strength of indoor patients was 500, whereas the present average indoor attendance was 586. As a result several patients had to sleep on the floor. Many more were refused admission.

In addition, it was further pointed out that ,2,372 out-door patients were treated daily at the hospital, engaging a staff of nearly sixty doctors.

It was also stated at the Conference tha tduring the last 24 years the Hospital had admitted as many as 300,363 indoor patients. During the same period 7,907,843 out-door patients were treated at the Hospital.

The total annual maintenance expenses of the Hospital came to a colossal figure of Rs. 19 lakhs and those of the college to four-and-a-half lakhs. All these expenses were borne by the Bombay Municipal Corporation.

Documentary On Research Laboratory

Presenting a compact report on the completed laboratories established to cater to the various needs of the modern industry, "Research Aids Industry" Films Division's release for the week beginning with October 13 spotlights the part that these laboratories are destined to play in the country's progress towards industrialization.

Well equipped, these institutes for industrial research assist the industry to improve the methods of production by devising new processes and methods.

INDIAN CREW TO RETURN

Refuse To Sail With Military Cargo

SAN DIEGO (California), Oct. 13 (PTI-Reuter): Rather than sail from here with a military cargo, 51 merchant seamen are on their way by air to their homes in Bombay.

The men were part of the crew of 7,513 ton British freighter "John Lyras" which is loading at the San Diego naval station under charter to the military sea transport service.

In Bombay arrangements were being made to pick up a replacement crew for the return flight according to the captain of the "John Lyras", Thomas Enos.

Jossinho V. Fernandes, spokesman for the crew said the men first went on strike several weeks ago in New Orleans when they believed the vessel would be sent to Korea. Later in San Francisco, when the Indian Consul told them they were bound for Japan, they continued to insist on returning home.

RESTRICTED TRADING IN ACTIVE SHARES

Market Dull Awaiting Fresh Developments

BOMBAY, Oct. 13.

The Bombay Stock Exchange was quietly steady today with restricted business. It being a fortnightly settlement, there was utter absence of any important business. Traders were mostly interested in carry over business and price fluctuations were again narrow.

There is no fresh development in the industrial situations and both Bulls and Bears, find nothing in the situation to increase their risks. Under such a state there is utter absence of professional activity which explains narrow price movement. We are having only routine business without definite price trend.

At the opening Tata Steel Defd shares opened at Rs. 1720 and after improving at Rs. 1727/8 steadied at Rs. 1725, Ordinary shares opened at Rs. 330 and steadied at Rs. 331, Indian Irons opened at Rs. 30/8 and improved at Rs. 30/9. Bengal Steels were done at Rs. 21/9.

Bombay Dyeings opened at Rs. 935 and improved at Rs. 937/8, Kohinoors were quoted at Rs. 311. Nagpurs were done at Rs. 243, Simplex Mill shares opened at Rs. 258 and improved at Rs. 259. Svadeshi Mill shares were quoted at Rs. 274.

Bombay Burmas opened at Rs. 502 and improved at Rs. 503/12. Scindia shares opened at Rs. 14/7 and after advancing at Rs. 14/13 and steadied at Rs. 14/11.

Later on there was very little business and Tata Steel Defds moved between Rs. 1722/8 and Rs. 1725, Ordinary shares were quoted at Rs. 330/8, while Bombay Dyeings were quoted at Rs. 936/4. The market was dull awaiting fresh development.

SHORT-TERM MONEY MARKET EASY

Large Arrivals Of Smuggled Gold

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT)

BOMBAY, Oct. 13

There is no change to report in the short-term money market which continued to rule easy. Day-to-day funds were quoted at 1/2 per cent. Three months' deposits were placeable between 1-1/4 and 1-1/2 per cent and six months' around 1-3/4 per cent per annum.

The statement of affairs of the Imperial Bank of India drawn upto 6th October 1950 shows only a small decline of Rs. 22 lakhs in Deposits. Investments are up by Rs. 5.78 crores and Loans and Advances show a rise of Rs. 61 lakhs. The cash balance with the Bank, in consequence, has contracted by Rs. 4.12 crores to Rs. 35.70 crores.

GILT EDGED

The gilt-edged market ruled easy and values of most securities registered further fractional losses for want of investment support. 3 per cent. 1986 conversion loan was marked down during the week to Rs. 96. Among dated loans 2-1/4 per cent. 1954 bonds were quoted a shade lower at Rs. 98-14, 2-1/2 per cent. 1955 loan at Rs. 99-10 and 2-1/2 per cent. 1961 loan at Rs. 96-12. 2-3/4 per cent. 1962 loan was quoted at Rs. 98-12 and 3 per cent. 1959/61 loan at Rs. 100-8. 3 per cent 1963/65 loan was placed lower at Rs. 99-9 and 3 per cent. 1966/68 loan at Rs. 99-6. 3 per cent 1970/75 loan tapered off to Rs. 99-3.

EXCHANGE

There is nothing fresh to report in the rupee/sterling exchange market which continued to rule steady during the week. For interbank business, sellers of spot TT on London quoted 1s. 5-31/32d. and buyers 1s. 6d. Merchant rates fixed by the Exchange Banks' Association were unchanged as under:

Sellers of TT on London spot	1s. 5-31/32d.
Sellers of TT on London upto six months	1s. 5-15/16d.
Buyers of TT on London spot and upto nine months	1s. 6-1/16d.

GOLD

The easy trend noticed in the gold section during the previous week was further accentuated during the week under review owing to reports of large-scale arrivals of smuggled parcels, speculative short-selling and persistent rumours of revaluation of the pound sterling. From Rs. 111-15, ready gold declined to Rs. 109-4 on Wednesday. At this level, there was very good enquiry for ready and the rate steadily moved up to Rs. 110-7 the next day and closed at Rs. 110-6. End-of-October settlement was quoted level with spot .99 fine throughout. Small lots of Indian mine gold were reported to have been sold during the week. The price of sovereigns also eased off a little to Rs. 75-12. Both arrivals, including smuggled gold, and offtake are reported to have averaged about 7,000 tolas a day, while the floating stocks are estimated at 100,000 tolas. The highest and lowest rates touched were Rs. 111-15 and Rs. 109-4 for spot and forward

SILVER

The decline in the silver section was not as pronounced as in the case of gold. Forward silver declined from Rs. 182-12 at the opening to Rs. 181-10 on Wednesday, but recovered to Rs. 182-7 on Thursday and closed at Rs. 182-2. Spot silver .999 fine continued to be quoted at a premium of one rupee over forward throughout the week. Arrivals in the form of unrefined silver were reported to have averaged about 20 bars a day. Apart from 102 bars of silver railed on Wednday, the upcountry offtake remained poor throughout and averaged about 10 bars a day. Floating stocks of silver are estimated at 3,500 bars. In the overseas markets, the New York and the London official silver prices were stationary at 72-3/4 cents and 63-1/2d. throughout. The highest and lowest rates touched were Rs. 183-15 and Rs. 182-10 for spot and Rs. 182-15 and Rs. 181-10 for forward.

SHARES QUIET

The share market ruled quiet during the week under review and prices fluctuated within a narrow range owing to lack of speculative support. Tata Defds. ranged between Rs. 1701-4 and Rs. 1730 and Ordinaries between Rs. 332-4 and Rs. 324 and finally closed at Rs. 1722-8 and Rs. 330 respectively. The textile section which showed signs of revival mid-week on expectation that the local mills would resume work after the publication of the Tribunal Award also turned quieter at the close. Bombay Dyeings, after improving from Rs. 927-8 to Rs. 943-12, declined and closed at Rs. 935. Nagpurs eased off from the week's high of Rs. 247 to Rs. 241-8, whilst both Kohinoors and Swadeshis finished quieter at Rs. 311 and Rs. 273 respectively. Hydro-electric and Bank sections passed a quiet week with very little business passing; Andhra Valleys were practically unchanged at Rs. 1447-8, whilst Powers receded from Rs. 1625 to Rs. 1615 and Hydros from Rs. 162-8 to Rs. 160-8 for want of support. Amongst banks, Central Banks were held around Rs. 83-8, but Imperial Bank Fully Paids were inclined to be offered at Rs. 1970. In the miscellaneous group of shares, Associated Cements and Belapurs were steady at Rs. 168-12 and Rs. 270, whilst Bombay Burmas, after a steep fall from Rs. 527-8 to Rs. 495 mid-week on some unfounded rumours, revived at the close to Rs. 505. Scindia Steams were maintained around Rs. 14-10.

CALCUTTA MARKET

The share market in Calcutta which was caught in the grip of heavy speculative selling, continued to move downwards until mid-week, but thereafter the market staged a moderate rally on short-covering and fresh support. The volume of business was reported to be fairly large.

London Bullion

LONDON, Oct. 12.

Silver Spot and Forward both 63 1/2 pence.

Gold Bars fine per ounce £12/8

Exchanges unchanged.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE

"Leisurely Pace"

LONDON, October 13 (PTI-Reuter): The week-end trading on the London Stock Exchange today was at a leisurely pace ,but the undertone in most sections remained very firm. Price changes were few, small and mainly to higher levels.

Nationalisation stocks in gilt-edged section were in small demand, and some institutional buying of selected short-dated issues was reported.

Oils were favourably affected by less gloomy interpretation of reports from the Far East and closed with many small improvements.

Among industrials, miscellaneous leaders were mostly a few pence better, while textiles moved higher on provincial buying with the tone of the whole market assisted by latest board of trade returns.

Shop support was reported to be responsible for gains in copper shares, Kaffirs made upward progress in early dealings, but were slightly under best at close.

Technical Recovery On Paris Bourse

PARIS, October 12.

The bourse staged a technical recovery following the decline of the past few days. Though buyers were discriminating sentiment was better in all the sections. It seems that several influential institutions have placed orders and it is believed that the market is heading for a general recovery. Rhodesian issues were specially popular, petroleums were higher while French chemicals were in demand. Revived interest in Quimes extended to all Argentine issues. Rentes improved.

TRUMAN'S AUTHORITY TO DISCUSS KOREA QUESTIONED

LONDON, Oct. 13, (PTI-Reuter).

THE cryptic announcement of a meeting between President Truman and General MacArthur in the Pacific, has found British and American newspapers cautious in their speculation and reluctant in prophecy or even editorial comment writes PTI correspondent.

Most of the British papers are refraining from editorial comments that may be ultimately proved wrong.

Pro-Imperialist 'Daily Express' today contended itself by drawing attention to the coincidence in timing of the meeting and Stalin's message to the North Korean Premier Kim Ir Sen wishing him good luck.

The only other paper to comment on the meeting was the Communist 'Daily Worker'. It said, for months the British and other satellite governments have been contending that the United States invasion of Korea was a United Nations "peace action".

When it suited the United States diplomats have made play with this conception, for instance when they refused to accept a Soviet note protesting against the bombing of Soviet territory.

"President Truman however, has brushed this poppycock aside and proclaims who is the boss.

"It is he and not any emissary from the United Nations, who is to visit General MacArthur and decide the final phase in Korea".

The independent, New York "Daily News", also noted the omission of all United Nation's representatives from Mr. Truman's party to the Pacific meeting. The paper hastened to add: "Not that we would advocate taking any United Nations fuss budgets to the party", but concluded: "the fact that Harry excluded them from this trip goes to show again what an artificial and largely powerless "the United Nations still is".

GENERAL BELIEF

In political circles here, the belief is held that the meeting may be in the nature of a personal direction from President Truman to the impetuous General, to interpret the U.N. resolution with restraint.

APPLYING BRAKES

In trying to apply the brakes on General might feel he had acquired is said to be mainly concerned with the immediate implications of a possible extension of conflict in the Pacific area on the United States individually.

In view of these strategic considerations political observers here believe President Truman will advise MacArthur to avoid trying China and Russia too much, in the interests of the United States whatever powers the General might feel he had acquired from the blanket resolution of the United Nations Assembly.

These observers believe that MacArthur will be asked to stay well within North Korea and sufficiently far away from the Manchurian and Russian borders to reduce all possibilities of "incidents" but this would mean that the heavy industries and hydro-electric power stations in the extreme north of Korea would be left in tact in the hands of the North Koreans.

This policy again domestically would provide more ammunition to the Republicans opposed to the Truman administration by leaving a strong frontier stockade for the North Koreans to wage a relentless guerilla war drawing supplies over the frontiers from Russia and China.

They hold the view that even the occupation of North Korea would not see the end of the Korean incident. Korea would continue to be a festering sore in the Pacific.

Britain's Television Chief Resigns

LONDON, Oct. 13 (PTI-Reuter).—Britain's television chief, best-selling novelist Norman Collins, resigned today. The BBC said this had nothing to do with last week's withdrawal of a television play "Party Manners" which was criticised on political grounds. Mr. Collins offered no explanation of his resignation.

The BBC announced later that Mr. George Barnes, its "Director of the Spoken Word" would fill the new post of director of television with a seat on the board of management.

EVACUATION OF THATKE

French Begin Operation

SAIGON, Oct. 13 (PTI-Reuter): The French Army announced today it had begun the "delicate and urgent" evacuation of the French frontier fortress of Thatke, near the border of Communist China, on the night of Tuesday-Wednesday.

Survivors of the French column of about 4,000 men trapped by Viet Minh forces had staggered into the fortress on Monday after the biggest battle of France's four-year war against guerillas in Indo-China.

Only about 500 men from the five battalions in the trapped column fought their way to safety. The battle had lasted five days and ended on Monday with severe losses.

A French Army spokesman said important elements of the Thatke garrison, paratroops and moraccans had already negotiated difficult jungle mountain pass of Lunghphai and reached destination Nachm to the south-east.

WELL EQUIPPED

The attacking Viet Minh guerilla troops had shown themselves in the new upsurge of hostilities to be efficient and well equipped.

A French Government spokesman said in Paris yesterday "France now has a full scale war on her hands, the guerilla phase is over".

The appointment of General Boyer De La Tour Du Moulin as Military Adviser to the Government of Viet Nam State, announced yesterday from Paris, was made known here at the same time as the announcement of the Thatke evacuation.

American military aid had already arrived and more was expected under the continuous programme.

So fa rno recruiting campaign had begun in Viet Nam. Each battalion would take about six months to equip and train, the same sources said.

Civilians have begun voluntarily leaving the remaining French outposts near the China border, according to usually reliable sources in Hanoi.

The Thatke evacuation widened the undefended gap in the line.

The entire garrison was expected to reach the post of Nacham across the mountains and important elements had already arrived.

PREPARING SCIENCE BOOKS IN HINDI

Government To Set Up A Board

NEW DELHI, Oct. 31 (PTI).—The Government of India, it is learnt, have decided to set up a Board of Scientists and Philologists to consider the question of evolving a uniform scientific terminology and to prepare text-books on science subjects in Hindi and in the principal literary languages of India. The current year's budget has already made a provision of Rs. 90,000 for the purpose.

The terms of reference of the board will include:

(1) To implement the resolution of the Central Advisory Board of Education in regard to the adoption of international scientific and technical terms in Hindi and in the principal literary languages of India.

(2) To lay down the principles according to which the international terms may be adapted to the genius of Indian languages.

(3) To make arrangements for the collection of terms current in Indian languages and for coining suitable terms on the basis of Indian languages for branches of knowledge where the use of foreign terms may not be suitable, and

(4) To determine and carry out the policy regarding preparation of standard books on scientific subjects.

NO CONSULTATION NOW

It is pointed out that since the achievement of independence, this question has assumed great importance. The states are eager to adopt the regional languages as media of instruction both at the secondary and university stage. Along with the adoption of the regional languages as media of instruction, the question of preparing dictionaries of technical terms and scientific text-books is taken up by them.

At present this work is being conducted without much inter-state consultation and the result may well be creation of different terminologies in different Indian languages. It it felt, such a situation will be unfortunate from the view point of education and it would also have important consequences on the solidarity and unity of the country.

Need For Applied Research

LABOUR MINISTER'S ADVICE

PATNA, Oct. (PTI): Shri Jagjiwan Ram, India's Labour Minister presiding over the silver jubilee celebrations of the Bihar College of Engineering here today stressed the need for applied research in the field of engineering instead of fundamental research for solving the day-to-day problems of the people of food, cloth and shelter.

There had been a lot of fundamental research in other parts of the world, he said, the results of which could not in many cases be brought to bear upon the problems here for solution for lack of resources. What the engineers here should try was to make original researches for solving the problems with the help of the resources available at their command.

Unfortunately, he added, that spirit had not yet been developed. They could not think or plan beyond what they had been taught in their courses of study. India, for instance, needed millions of houses for its industrial and agricultural labourers.

But when the engineers were consulted they only talked in terms of cement, iron, reinforced bricks and reinforced concrete, forgetting the dearth of these materials. Even a layman could point out that it was not possible to build a pucca house without cement or iron. An engineer who wanted to serve the people could be able to think of building houses with Ramanad earth and Nuria tiles.

NASIK DIRECTIVES TO BE PUT TO TEST

Paradox Of Price Increases And Food Policy

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT)

NEW DELHI, October 13.

FOOD versus jute, and policy versus practice of price control may provide an early test for the Congress policy as adopted at Nasik. The Prime Minister, as already reported, has emphasised the imperative need for implementing the Nasik Congress resolutions.

The resolution on economic programme demands immediate action on the following:

Firstly, adequate supply of essential raw materials for industry; secondly, orderly and progressive reduction in the general price level; and thirdly; the reduction in the cost of production to reasonable levels.

Probably the Prime Minister was right in suspecting that the resolutions had been supported with mental reservations. Already efforts are in progress to enhance the price of sugar from Rs. 28 to Rs. 31 per maund. The price of sugarcane has been enhanced. The incentive to produce more sugar was advanced as the reason for the proposed rise in the prices of sugar and sugarcane. Similar arguments were advanced in support of higher prices for cotton.

A PARADOX

The Planning Commission and the Nasik Congress have advocated the reduction of price levels. The Government's recent legislative action has also been actuated by a similar desire. It is a paradox that in the implementation of this policy the Government should be sanctioning price increases of commodities which constitute the cost of living.

Although raw jute is an essential material for a key and dollar earning industry, an adequate supply of which therefore should be assured in terms of the Nasik resolution, proposals under discussion to revise the jute self-sufficiency policy has already made good progress.

The issues raised are fundamental. Firstly, as stated above the jute industry is a national and dollar earning industry in which India holds a monopoly. Secondly unlike wheat or rice, jute is not available outside India. Thirdly, India is in short supplies for the raw material and is dependent upon Pakistan for it.

PAK POLICY

The issue therefore is whether India should remain dependent upon Pakistan for this essential raw material. Those who stand for self-sufficiency in jute hold that Pakistan's decision against devaluation of its rupee was largely influenced by the belief that it had India at its mercy for jute and cotton.

By the whole-hearted co-operation of the jute industry and by the jute self-sufficiency drive, India was able to withstand Pakistan's economic pressure politics. The Congress directive for the early realisation of food self-sufficiency is admitted. So also equally important is the mandate for securing adequate supply of raw material to the industry.

The people who are so solicitous about Pakistan's economy should not neglect the economic stability of their own country it is asserted here.

The issue will be discussed here by the agriculture panel of the Planning Commission on Monday next and may come up before the cabinet at an early date.

NEW DELHI, Oct. 13 (PTI).—Mr. Tsepon Shakabpa, Tibet's Finance Secretary and leader of the Tibetan Mission now in Delhi, told PTI: "We do not believe the reports of Chinese invasion of Tibet because we have received no information from our Government."

National Parks Bill Passed

BOMBAY COUNCIL ADJOURNS

POONA, Oct. 13 (PTI).—The bill to provide national parks for Bombay State was passed by the Bombay Legislative Council today.

The Bill was moved by the Minister for Public Health, Dr. M. D. D. Gilder, who said: "We are trying to revive those glorious ancient days when India was full of gardens, woodlands and parks."

Earlier, the Council passed the bill to abolish Paragana and Kulkarni Watandars.

The House then adjourned till October 25.

The Prohibition Minister, Mr. L. M. Patil, today declared in the Bombay Legislative Council that Government could not neglect the secondary needs of the people, though it was true its first concern should be to meet their primary needs.

"A lot of advice is being given to government today, he said, on priorities for schemes."

Government, he said, were never more puzzled than by the advice they had received on priorities and were sometimes at a loss to know where to begin and where to end.

Mr. Patil made this statement in reply to a speech of Mr. M. G. Gopi (Congress) to give higher priority for the development of backward areas such as North Kanara before putting through their scheme of providing national parks for the State.

TOO WIDE POWERS

In the Assembly Mr. Pushottamdas Tricumdas (Socialist) criticised the bill to consolidate the two Bombay Police Acts—the District Police Act and the City of Bombay Police Act—as containing provisions encroaching upon the fundamental rights guaranteed by the Constitution.

Mr. Tricumdas criticised the wide powers given to the police. To vest the police with wide powers was to invite a police state, he said.

Mr. Tricumdas was against the centralisation of police powers into the hands of one man. Its control, he said, should be as widely dispersed as possible.

He objected to the idea of imposing punitive police on a given area and thus penalise all the people living in that area for an offence committed by a few people and chiefly for the failure of Government to maintain peace and tranquillity.

COPIES OF BILLS

The Speaker of the Bombay Assembly, Mr. K. S. Firodia, today asked Government to see that copies of bills in regional languages were made available to the members before such bills came up for discussion in the House. Otherwise, the Speaker said, he might have to defer the consideration of those bills till copies in regional languages were got ready.

He made this request after Mr. R. S. Gavale, a member of the Peasants and Workers Party, had made a complaint, at the time of the discussion of the bill to consolidate the two police acts in the State, that though the bill was under consideration of the House, he had not yet received a Marathi copy of the same.

The Finance Minister, Mr. V. L. Mehta said in the Assembly that Government had received a complaint that certain members of the Bombay Bullion Association did not show the correct amount of business in their clearance sheets and thereby evaded the stamp duty. Government, he added, were investigating those complaints and if found correct would take necessary steps.

Mr. Morarji Desai, Home Minister told the Bombay Legislative Assembly during the question hour today that due to unprecedented floods during the monsoon this year, 40 villages in North Kanara District had been affected, resulting in huge loss of property and damage to crops. In Kumta and Honavar talukas about 200 houses had collapsed and over 800 people were rendered homeless.

IN A CHINA SHOP

By Taurus

MY heart bleeds (a la Dalmia) for the two pressmen who came in contact with the wrong end of a policeman's lathi. It is always distressing when a fellow journalist in his search for honest sensation, to be reported second-hand, becomes himself the centre of the scene. It reminds me of the lines, Himself the judge, himself the jury and himself the prisoner at the bar.

But as Lord Halifax put it when he was India's G-G, the best way of escaping indiscriminate attack from Law and Order is to keep away from the scene of trouble. In my more energetic days, I was out with a colleague on a jaunt round some really nasty localities. As we stood, looking down a dark lane which seemed profusely littered with soda-water bottles and other lethal weapons, a kindly passer-by warned us not to go further lest we get into trouble. My friend who possessed that cherubic expression which only hardened journalists have, smiled benignly and remarked, "I am all right, I am THE PRESS." Naturally the other fellow asked, "Which press?" I was quaking in my shoes because I was scared my companion would spill the beans. He was working with me on a newspaper which, to say the least, was unorthodox and so very popular with some and very unpopular with others. It is wise in these circumstances to look before you leap.

But the words were out. My friend with a nonchalant, "What do you think", proceeded to enlighten the other: "The People's Friend", he said, drawing himself up to his full 5 feet 6.

The reaction of our interrupter was instant. Like the fleeing Aeneas when he came upon an unexpected Greek, he stepped back as though he had trod upon a serpent. Then, with a swift recovery, he spat on the ground and said, "Go my dear, 'People's Friend', go; walk right in, and may three soda water bottles greet your head from the people." Even the thick skin of my friend was not impervious to this.

We left the place. As went away, he muttered to himself: "To think that there are persons of this type. No wonder we are not yet free." He preferred, he said, the street urchins who stood by with a big stone in their hands and stopped passing cars, calling on the men inside, "Jai Hind Bolo; aur jhorse bolo." They at least, he felt, were patriots. Well, he had a lusty voice and he always obliged with a loud shout. But it was an other pair of shoes with me.
